THE corruption in the Republican party must be something terrible, as we notice it has induced quite a number of foreign gentlemen who have only resided a year or two in this country to call for their "fellow citizens" to come out from its influences. ON the frontier, in Kansas, audiences at the theatres have an original way of applauding actors and actresses. They give a regular Indian yell, patting their mouths with their hands all the time. ON the 9th of June, Augustine Holland, a highly educated mulatto, was married clandestinely to a negro named James Madison, in St. Louis. The mother of Augustine had hoped to see her daughter married to a white man, and was so incensed when she heard what had taken place that she pursued the newly wedded pair, who had gone off for a short wedding trip on the Pacific Road, overtook them at Rochefort and, meeting the bridegroom face to face, stabbed him to the heart with a dagger. THE new shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad, now in the course of construction at Altoona, it is stated, cover an area of twenty acres, and comprise an iron machine shop, a planing mill, a blacksmith shop, cabinet work shop, and a three-quarter, round brick building, for the repair of freight cars, eighty of which can be rebuilt at the same time. The capacity of the new shops is four times that of the old, and the buildings can be enlarged when required. These improvements were commenced last summer, and will be completed in the spring of 1871.

A CURIOUS instance of poisoning, and one which may serve as a caution to persons having the care of horses, is recorded in late London papers. John Bradford, a coachman, aged 60, in the employment of a livery stable keeper at Pimlico, was forcing some medicine down the throat of a horse, when, in drawing his hand out of the mouth, the teeth of the animal scratched the skin of one of his fingers. The following day the man's hand was much swollen, and he went to the hospital for advice; but in spite of medical aid he died in a few days from blood poisoning.

THE Philadelphia Ledger says: Yesterday afternoon the steamboat "Fawn," one of the boats plying on the Schuylkill, between Fairmount and Manayunk, left her moorings at Fairmount, having on board about twenty-five passengers. Before her pilot had succeeded in heading her up the river, a rope became entangled in the rudder and prevented it from being worked. At once the boat became unmanageable, and was carried by the current toward the edge of the dam, where she grounded and remained until the passengers were taken off in the boats of the Schuylkill Harbor Police and others. Fortunately the water was low, or the boat would have been carried over the dam with all on board.

THE N. Y. World says: The gypsies are about to establish a colony at New Albany, Ohio, and there are now gathered there about forty families, several of which have settled down on estates contiguous. "Delegations are still arriving," says the New Albany Ledger—though what can have caused this movement of concentration is, as a Yankee would say, unguessable. They propose to invest in estates, one adjoining another, and have the traditional Gypsy Queen with them. It is not generally known that there are families in this city (New York) of eminent fashionable and social distinction that preserve the gypsy blood in its purity, and that the race is sporadically represented in the enterprising commercial upper ten of the metropolis.

RECENTLY a farmer named Osmere, residing in Greenfield, Michigan, concluded that he would rid his barn of about a hundred nests made by swallows under the eaves, and for the purpose put up and mounted a long ladder. There were only a dozen birds about when the farmer commenced at the nests, but he had scarcely torn one down before the few set up such a twittering as soon brought to the spot every bird from the barns of the whole neighborhood. They flew around Osmere's head, uttering notes of displeasure, and at last the whole cloud settled upon him screaming, pecking and scratching, as if determined to dig his eyes out. The ladder did not stand very securely, and, as the farmer raised his hand to fight off his tormentors, his support slipped and fell, carrying him to the ground, the fall breaking a rib, and giving him some severe bruises. The birds remained about the spot until seemingly convinced that their abodes were safe, when the flock scattered.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: Cuban-Spanish Affairs—Tax and Tariff Bill—Texas Pacific Railroad. HOUSE: Representative Apportionment Put Aside for the Session, Probably—Georgia Restoration Bill.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 23, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. SUMNER, Chairman of Committee on Foreign Relations, reported resolutions—as a substitute for the House resolution—in relation to the contest between Cuban insurgents and the Government of Spain. He asked immediate consideration.

The resolutions declare the people of the United States cannot hear with indifference the reports of barbarities practiced in the Island of Cuba.

The United States protests against these barbarities by both parties, and denounces them as contrary to the laws of civilized warfare, and solemnly insists they be stopped at once.

The people of the United States are pained to hear that pretensions in property in man are still upheld by Spain, and in the name of justice and humanity this Government demands slavery to be abolished in all the dominions of Spain on this continent.

The United States, having once been colonies themselves, believe the day of European slavery on this continent at an end, and regret the efforts of Spain to maintain her hold on Cuba against the wishes of the Cubans.

The people of the United States sympathize with the people of Cuba in their efforts to secure independence, and at the same time sympathize with the liberal party in Spain who are endeavoring to secure free government for that country.

The President is directed to communicate these resolutions to the government of Spain and people of Cuba.

Mr. CASSERLY objected to the consideration of the resolutions until they were printed, and they were laid over and ordered to be printed.

Mr. STEWART moved to take up the bill to prevent the enforcement of Chinese Coolie contracts for servile labor.

Mr. CASSERLY gave notice of an intention to amend the bill in some very objectionable features, and asked further time for the purpose.

Mr. STEWART remarked that each day lessened the probability of passing the bill, while these Chinese importations were increasing. Finally he agreed to withdraw his motion temporarily.

Mr. WILSON said the Senator from Nevada was forced, by objections made by Senators on the other side of the chamber, to let the bill go over, but hoped he would call it up as soon as possible and press it to a vote. The time had surely come when Congress should arrest this importation of servile labor, either to take the place of the emancipated men of the South or working men of the North. He was opposed to casting a drag net over the world and gathering up the degraded portion of mankind to lower the price of labor and degrade the workingmen of the United States.

Mr. Stewart's motion was then withdrawn.

Mr. SHERMAN moved to limit the debate on amendments to the tax bill to five minutes for each member, but Mr. THURMAN objected.

The tax bill was then resumed, and Mr. SCOTT spoke at length against the retention of the income tax.

Messrs. Buckingham, Bayard and Thurman followed on the same side, and Mr. Morton defended the tax.

After a short executive session the Senate took a recess.

At evening session the consideration of the Texas Pacific Railroad bill was resumed.

At 11:30 Mr. Nye's amendment, providing for a new set of corporators, headed by Gen. Fremont—making the total number, with those already in the bill, one hundred and sixteen—was adopted. Yeas 31, nays 6.

A discussion then ensued upon the gauge of the road, and at 12 o'clock the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. HAY, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported a bill to pay pensioners whose pensions were withheld from them between the 3rd of March, 1865, and the 6th of June, 1866, by reason of their being in the civil service of the Government, the amount of pensions so withheld.

The House then took up as unfinished business of yesterday the Senate amendment to the bill to provide for the apportionment of Representatives to Congress among the several States, the question being on Mr. Judd's motion to concur, on which he moved the previous question.

Mr. MARSHALL appealed to his colleague to let him offer an amendment.

Mr. JUDD declined to withdraw the previous question.

Mr. MARSHALL hoped the previous question would not be seconded, as it was an outrage to pass the bill in its present form.

The previous question was not seconded by 71 to 81.

Mr. MARSHALL then offered an amendment providing that in the election by general ticket of two or more members in one State each qualified voter may cast as many votes for one candidate as there are Representatives to be elected, or may distribute the same among candidates as he sees fit, and that the candidates highest in vote shall be declared duly elected.

Messrs. Marshall, Cox, Garfield and Haldeman advocated the proposition, which was opposed by Messrs. Laflin, Judd, Bingham and Maynard.

The House again refused to second the previous question.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to refer the bill and amendments to the Judiciary Committee, and after further discussion

Mr. ELA offered an amendment providing that the representation of any State should not be diminished in the Forty-second Congress.

The bill and amendments were then referred to the Judiciary Committee—yeas 98, nays 95.

This is regarded as equivalent to the defeat of the bill, the Judiciary Committee standing number ten on the list of committees to be called, and it being unlikely it will be reached this session. The vote was a sectional, not a party one, members from the West and South voting against reference, and those from the middle and eastern States for it. There were some few exceptions to the rule.

Mr. MAYNARD moved to reconsider the vote.

Mr. SCOFIELD moved to lay the motion on the table, which was agreed to—yeas 97, nays 93.

Mr. BUTLER, of Mass., from the Reconstruction Committee, reported back the Senate amendment to the Georgia bill, with a substitute.

The substitute was the same as the bill for Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, with the single addition of giving those four States the right to organize militia.

Mr. DAWES offered a substitute, recognizing the fact that Georgia had ratified the amendments to the Constitution, was entitled to representation, and was authorized to organize military for her defence.

Mr. CESSNA offered a substitute declaring that Georgia having complied with the Reconstruction acts, and the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the Constitution having been ratified in good faith by the Legislature of said State, it is hereby declared the State of Georgia is entitled to representation in the Congress of the United States.

Mr. FARNSWORTH stated he was authorized by the majority of the Committee to report an amendment.

Mr. WOODWARD stated the majority of the Committee had authorized Mr. Farnsworth to present a report, and that the case before the Chair was the case of the majority trying to get before the House the report of that majority.

The Speaker stated that he understood the gentleman from Massachusetts to be authorized to make the report which he had made, and asked whether that fact was challenged.

Mr. BECK said he challenged it, and stated that the chairman of the committee, Mr. Butler, had made a report truly as far as he had gone. He had been authorized to make that report, but he had been instructed at the same time to have the report of Mr. Farnsworth presented, which was in fact the report of the majority. He added that eight of the committee had at first voted for the report of the chairman and seven against it. One of the eight, the gentleman from Ohio, (Mr. Upson) afterwards changed his vote and voted upon the substitute in the hands of Mr. Farnsworth, but was unwilling, lest it might be deemed a reflection on the Chairman, to take the bill out of his hands.

The Speaker asked Mr. Beck whether he raised the point that the gentleman from Massachusetts was not authorized to make a report?

Mr. BECK said the chairman was not authorized to make it by itself, without stating the other condition.

The Speaker said that was the only point on which he could rule, whether the report was authorized to be made.

Various amendmends were offered by unanimous consent, which with the bill and substitutes were ordered printed, and it was agreed the previous question might be seconded at two o'clock to-morrow.

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—It turns out that W. S. Pike, of New Orleans, and Mr. Blood, who was clerk of the Jas. M. White when she made her fast trip in 1844, were authorized by Capt. Leathers to keep the time of the steamer Natchez on her recent trip, and their time is three days, twenty-one hours and fifty-eight minutes. This will stay as the record of the Natchez.

NEW YORK CITY.

Failure of a Gold and Stock Broker—The Railroad War Wages—Further Reduction of Railroad Fare—Increase of Freight Rates.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 23, 1870.

HEAVY FINANCIAL FAILURE.

The markets at the Stock Exchange were unsettled to-day by the announcement of the failure of Jas. Boyd, who, as a broker, suspended on contracts said to have been made for account of Edward B. Ketchum. It appears Boyd was carrying a large amount of gold, about five millions, and was also in the stock market, having lines of Pacific Mail, New York Central, Hudson and Rock Island. Until recently he also had a large interest in the Lake Shore and Ohio & Mississippi. The break day before yesterday in the last named is said to have been due to his sales of stock. The cause of his failure was the decline in gold and absorption of margins by interest account on stock, it appearing that before his suspension he paid out over $300,000 in the settlement of losses. The amounts carried were out of all proportion to the margins put up. Boyd's losses it is thought will be covered by $75,000, and that they are not larger is due to the fact that the operations which had been closed within the past few days on some stocks have showed a profit. Great sympathy is expressed for Boyd, who has been an attached friend of Ketchum's for years, and who acted as his broker both before his departure from and since his return to the street. This is the third time Boyd has failed, and in each case through the failure of his principal. Before his suspension he paid out over $300,000 in the settlement of losses.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

The competition for passenger traffic between the New York Central and Hudson River, Erie and Pennsylvania Central Railroad Companies continues active, with some further reduction to important points in the Southwest. The rate for first class fare via Mississippi River to New Orleans was to-day reduced by the Erie from $28 to $26.56, and the St. Louis rate from $28 to $26.82. The General Agent of the Great Southern Line via Richmond has also adopted these rates to-day, and still cheaper rates are promised within a day or two. From the present appearances the New Orleans fare will be reduced to forty dollars within a week, with a similar proportionate decline to all intermediate points. The eighteen dollar rate to Chicago, seventeen to Cincinnati and twenty-one to Louisville by all the trunk lines continues unchanged, but further reductions are anticipated. First class freights will be advanced July 1st to Chicago from $1.12 per cwt. to $1.50; the rates to Cincinnati from $1 to $1.42; the rates to Louisville from $1.23 to $1.73; the rates to Quincy, Ill., $1.40 to $1.91; the rates to St. Louis $1.40 to $1.91.

CHARGE DISMISSED.

The charge made by Editha Montez against Mesdames Woodhull and Claflin was dismissed and she was remanded to the care of the Commissioners of Charity.

PARDONED.

President Grant has pardoned Louis Lindaner for a violation of the internal revenue law relative to lotteries. He had served about half his term of imprisonment.

NEW TRIAL.

Etheired Woodward, convicted of counterfeiting, has been given a new trial, the prosecuting witnesses proving worse than himself.

SENTENCED.

Michael Varley, brother of "Reddy, the blacksmith," has been sentenced to six months in the penitentiary.

—The New York World's Havana correspondent writes that President Grant's message to Congress on Cuban affairs was telegraphed in full to that city, by the Spanish minister at Washington, and was soon after printed in hand-bills by the official paper, and distributed through the city. It produced the greatest joy among the Spanish citizens and volunteers. The President's name was shouted everywhere with enthusiastic vivas and there was a strong disposition to illuminate the city. Notwithstanding their happy mood, the authorities still keep in prison the American citizen last seized by them, Joseph Duany, and even refuse to inform the Consul, General Biddle, why he was arrested. News had been received of the death of General Calixto Garcia, one of the ablest of the insurgent chiefs, who was killed in the recent engagement near Santa Rita. He makes the fourteenth general officer lost by the Cubans since the beginning of the war.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 23.—Chipman, publisher of Dickens' works, publishes a statement to-day that only one-half of Dickens' story, "Mystery of Edwin Drood," had been written. The story will be published as far as written, and no one will be permitted to finish it.

The funeral of Lord Arthur Clinton, one of the parties involved in the female masquerade scandal, was strictly private. The only attendants were the Duke of New Castle and Lord Thomas Clinton and Solicitor and physicians of the deceased. The place of burial was left unmarked.

A deputation representing 60,000 operatives in Lancashire waited on the Committee of Cotton Manufacturers at Blackburn to-day and asked an increase of wages. They were assured if the prices obtained for goods after harvest was over should warrant, their wages should be raised five per cent.

Evans, partner of the firm of Bradbury & Evans, formerly publishers of Dickens' works, is dead.

CORK, June 23.—Serious riots occurred here yesterday. The masters had recently hired a great number of German tailors, displacing the Irish. A meeting of the Irish tailors was held and a strike was resolved upon at once. Yesterday afternoon the Irish tailors stopped work, and soon afterwards the rioting began. The strikers attacked the shops of the employers, when the police charged on the rioters and succeeded in restoring order. A number of citizens who volunteered to aid the police were stabbed. Everything is quiet now. A great many arrests have been made.

The damage to the crops caused by the drought in France cannot yet be correctly estimated. Accounts from the Provinces are contradictory, but the grain markets show much weakness. The effect of the extraordinary heat is still felt. In Paris, the water of the Seine is so low that grass is growing at the foot of the quay walls.

CORK, June 22.—Evening.—Great excitement prevails to-night. The disturbances of yesterday were renewed. The riotous crowds assemble in the streets and are dispersed and repeatedly re-form. There has been some hand to hand fighting and several special constables have been wounded.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 23.—J. Meredith Read, Consul General of the United States, gave a grand dinner this evening in honor of Prevost Paradol.

The Princes of the House of Orleans have addressed a letter to the Deputies of the Corps Legislatif on the occasion of the motion made relative to the call of the Princes of both lines of the Bourbon family. The Princes say: "In the presence of this proposition we cannot keep silence. Since 1848 we have protested against law which exiled us. Nothing has justified that exile since, and we come to renew our protests. It is not grace that we demand; it is our right, a right which belongs to all Frenchmen and of which we are despoiled. It is our country which we ask for, which we love, which our family has always loyally served, from which none of our traditions separate us, and whose name alone causes our hearts to beat. Nothing can replace our absent country."

The Siecle, after describing the Spanish atrocities in the Antilles, quotes with approval the following passage from the London Messenger: "Spain needs money, Cuba needs peace, and the United States needs Cuba." The Siecle adds: "In this statement we see a practical solution of the sitnation."

International Convention at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 23.—The Convention was called to order at ten o'clock by President McLean. After singing a hymn, Dr. Harper, of Indianapolis, read the 19th psalm and led in prayer.

The minutes of yesterday's meeting were read and adopted.

A number of resolutions and communications were presented and referred to committees without reading.

The Chair announced the following Committee on Associations: Hon. C. C. Lathrop, Newark, New Jersey; John L. Wheat, Louisville, Kentucky; Alfred Sandham, Montreal, Quebec; T. C. Crocker, Westerly, Rhode Island; George A. Young, Hamilton, Ontario; H. H. Judson, Memphis, Tennessee; D. E. Small, York, Pennsylvania.

The special order for the morning session was the discussion of the question "What branch of the Association work has afforded the most encouragement during the past year?" The discussion was participated in by Messrs. Kimball, of Erie, P. Moore, of Massachusetts; Baldwin, of Newburg, New York; Hay, of Toronto; C[illegible]ey, of Iowa; G. H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and others.

There was a large number of delegates present at the Convention this morning, many having arrived on trains last night.

At the afternoon session, after the usual devotional exercises and reading of minutes, a large number of resolutions and communications were introduced and referred to Committees without reading.

Hon. W. Brunot, President of the United States Peace Commission, was invited to a seat on the platform.

The Executive Committee of Associations of the United States and British provinces made their report for the year just closing.

The detailed statement of the Treasurer shows the amount received during the year, $5,605.13; paid for publishing the proceedings of Portland Convention, $800.26; Western work, $1,466.06; Southern work, $866.12; printing and other expenses $643.37—leaving remaining, $1,423.49.

Open air meetings were held in various parts of the city at from six to eight o'clock.

The meeting at the night session was large and enthusiastic. The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity. The subject under discussion was, "How shall we reach and influence young men who come into our large cities."

Rev. H. D. Moore, of Cincinnati, read the Scriptures and invoked the divine blessing.

Rev. B. W. Chidlaw addressed the audience, showing the practical importance of the great work for the conversion of young men, and from the demonstration here it was evident that the friends of Jesus are alive to the importance of bringing young men under the influence of the Divine Spirit.

H. Thane Miller sang very touchingly, "Weary of Wandering Long."

Hon. S. S. Fisher, of Washington, was the next speaker. He related a number of anecdotes to illustrate the practical work of reaching young men who go to cities and towns. He contended that the prayer meeting should be opened, and a hall for lectures, a well lighted room and use every appliance possible.

Hon. Geo. H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, very ably and eloquently set forth the duties we owe the young men of America, and the magnitude of the work to bring the young men, too, who are crowding to our shores from the Old World. The influence that these young men are to exert on the institutions of this country are to last forever. He believed that the Young Men's associations possess peculiar facilities for this work, and he always placed this Association as an auxiliary of the Christian Church. He contended that we must commend the religion of Christ by acts of kindness, compassion and love; then we can reach the young men, and throw around them influences that will make a lasting impression on the soul.

A beautiful hymn was then sung, "Soldiers of the Cross, arise."

Wm. Reynolds, of Pen[illegible], spoke earnestly and boldly for the work.

Mrs. Halford led in singing, after which D. L. Moody, of Chicago, closed with a splendid address.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

Class-Day Exercises—A History—Poem—Prophecy, and Presentation of the Wooden Spoon.

The Seniors of the University held their class-day exercises yesterday afternoon in the University Hall, and they were largely attended by beauty and fashion generally. Soon after the hour of opening the class of '70 marched in file up the hall, arrayed in their Oxford gowns, while the band in attendance played a lively college air. Having seated themselves on the platform, Mr. Jno. McIntosh, chairman of the class, made a few opening remarks, and then introduced the class historian, Mr. W. A. Boothe, who gave a lengthy description of the doings of the class since they had first entered the institution. Several little episodes were related, in which some of the worthy professors had been connected.

Some good music was then given, when Mr. W. H. Knox recited his class poem, composed by him for the occasion. Mr. K., like the historian, used his classmates in quite a spicy manner; also spoke quite feelingly of the various members of the Faculty. One touching part of the poem was a very fitting tribute paid to the memory of a deceased classmate. Taking it in all, it was certainly a scholarly production. The next in order was the Prophecy, delivered by Mr. J. P. Rogers. This gentleman seemed to be the very sober man of the class, and he was admirably adapted to the part he took. His predictions were quite encouraging to some of the boys, but he did not deal very mildly with others. His prophecy elicited much applause from the audience, but the prophet was as sober as ever. The concluding part of the entertainment was the presenting the Junior class with a wooden spoon. Mr. N. Miles made the presentation speech, bringing out a delicate little spoon about three feet long, telling the Juniors how it should be esteemed, and used, also. Mr. John Crosier in behalf of the Junior class responded in a pert manner, thanking them for their manifestation of kindness, also remarking they could not have selected a more appropriate testimonial of their regard, especially as the class presenting it was a very "spoony crowd" indeed.

The ode was then sung by the whole class, to the tune of Auld Lang Syne. The entertainment throughout was quite interesting, and much credit is due the young gentlemen who took part in the various exercises.

Movements of Governor Geary.

His Excellency, Gov. John W. Geary, who is stopping at the Monongahela House, yesterday in company with Messrs. E. Houston, Sr., H. A. Frevfogle and T. Campbell of the Board of Managers of the St. Paul's Orphan Asylum, visited that institution and made thorough examination of its various departments. The Asylum was found to be in the most scrupulous good order and its vast family of children were as comfortably situated as if in the enjoyment of luxurious homes independent of charity. The good sisters in charge assembled the children together and after several songs of cheerful welcome to the distinguished visitor were chanted by them, the Governor in his own neat way delivered a feeling address to the boys and girls, which they will remember as long as they live. He was very much pleased with the asylum and its management, and expressed much surprise that so great an institution should so prosperously thrive on private charity and support. The good order, comfort and general cleanliness of the wards and the health and good spirits of the children excited the unqualified praise of His Excellency, who retired abundantly pleased with his visit. The Asylum has many soldiers' orphans in its keeping, who were made especial objects of interest by the Governor. The party next visited Mercy Hospital, a charitable Catholic institution supported by the offerings of the generous community. The Governor was delighted with his visit there, too, and paid high tribute to the worth of such a place to the community, and to the efforts of the sisters in charge, who had it, as it ever is, in the most perfect order from cellar to attic. The party returned to the city in the afternoon. To-day the Governor will visit the oil regions, accompanied by Col. Wm. Phillips, Gen. A. L. Pearson, Hon. Judge Stowe and other distinguished citizens.

Two soldiers were violently assaulted by civilians in Drogheda on Sunday night, and would have received serious injuries but for the intervention of the police. Two of their assailants have been arrested.

THE Poles of Gallicia have been refused a separate autonomy by the Austrian government; but the right to dictate the manner in which their Deputies to the Reichsrath shall be elected is conceded to their Provincial Diet, along with exclusive legislation concerning schools, communal matters and public credit.

THE monocyle, or one-wheeled velocipede, has appeared in Paris and completely eclipses its two-wheeled (bycicle) and three-wheeled (tricycle) predecessors. THE departure of Count Bismarck with the King of Prussia for Ems, where they are to meet the Emperor of Russia, has given rise to much conjecture among foreign journalists. That important diplomatic conferences will take place at Ems on this occasion, seems to be pretty certain; but they will probably turn on the affairs of Austria and Roumania.

AN experiment with gun cotton has been made at Rye, England. The martello tower No. 36, the walls of which were twelve feet thick at the base, were entirely demolished by 200 pounds of gun cotton, divided into three charges and fired simultaneously by electricity. The gun cotton was in five-inch discs, and none of the debris was blown away to the extent of fifty yards from the building.

THE first fatal Alpine accident of the season is reported. News has reached Cambridge that Mr. E. Royds of Trinity Hall, has been killed by a fall over a precipice while on a mountaineering expedition on the Alps. Mr. Royds was an ardent athlete, having several times represented Cambridge against Oxford in the inte-university athletic sports. He was also a very popular member of the Trinity Hall Boat Club.

LORD DERBY yesterday laid the foundation stone of a new hospital at Liverpool, called the Stanley Hospital, in Stanley Road, at the northern side of the town. The site, about eight acres, was given by the noble Earl, and the building is expected to cost from £8,000 to £10,000. His lordship, in the address he delivered on the occasion, remarked that it was, he was afraid, indisputable that the difficulty of dealing with individual poverty and distress is greater in a community of some hundreds of thousands than where each family lives among a few neighbors, all of whom know and are known in one another.

A PARIS LETTER in the Times states that the inevitable results of the reign of extravagance of the Emperor's pet prefect, M. Hausman, are appearing in the shape indicated some time ago. Funds cannot be found to go on with the works he projected, and a petition, signed by the principal building contracters of Paris has been presented to the Corps Legislatiff, calling attention to the consequences of the suspension of the works. The builders point out that nine-tenths of the men thrown out of work are in a destitute condition, and that their plants and tools are going to destruction. To add to their difficulties, they find that the city authorities will not pay the large sums due to them. The writer of the letter adds that M. Hausman, having left Paris insolvent, is now rolling in wealth at Nice.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1870.

GOV. W. E. STEVENSON, of West Virginia, has been honored with an unanimous re-nomination by the Republican party which met in convention on Wednesday last, at Parkersburg. Gov. Stevenson has proved a most efficient and capable executive officer, and we are glad that his administration finds favor and endorsement.

GOV. GEARY is at present in the city, fulfilling his word of promise on the occasion of his last visit, to come again among us and acquaint himself more thoroughly with our people and their interests, our manufactories and our public and private charitable institutions. We are pleased to extend him cordial welcome and trust his semi-official visit may prove enjoyable, instructive and interesting.

FROM every quarter comes the encouraging news that the harvests this year will be extraordinarily heavy. In view of the threatened failure in France and light crops in other foreign countries, the unusual yield of our land will prove a special God send, not only to ourselves but to those abroad who depend upon us to make up the deficiencies in their own productions of breadstuffs.

OUR READERS should bear in mind that the Hon. and Rev. Robert Audley Browne, D. D., President of the Westminster College, will deliver the Annual address before the Alumni Association of the Western University this evening in the Third United Presbyterian church, on Diamond street. Dr. Browne is earnestly devoted to the cause of education, and always handles whatever subject he undertakes to discuss with great power. He is a profound thinker, and a logical reasoner, and will no doubt highly edify the large audience, which, it is confidently expected, will be present to hear his address this evening.

IN ALLEGHENY COUNTY there are one hundred and five election districts, numbering in the aggregate nearly twenty thousand Republican voters in an election of no extraordinary importance. The calls for the new third party were extensively circulated in these, and as a result of several weeks laborious canvassing, eight hundred and fifty names were obtained to the papers, or an average of less than nine voters to each district, or about one twenty-fifth part of the Republican vote. This does not look as though the movement is so immensely popular with the masses as the originators and their organ of brimstone corner would have the people believe.

THE COMMISSIONERSHIP.

We have conversed with dozens of men who signed the bolters' call, and all of them were vehement in saying, "We intend to vote the regular Republican ticket; but if a bad man is nominated for County Commissioner we shall vote against him." With hundreds of such men the only point is the County Commissioner. If our party nominates a man for that office acceptable to them, they will vote our whole ticket.

We cannot of course undertake to predict who will be nominated for County Commissioner, but we have faith enough to believe that a man will be nominated acceptable to all. At any rate, wait and see. We call upon all the men who have been inveigled into this movement to trust the party until it has done wrong. Our Convention, we feel sure, will act in a manner to deserve their confidence; and they are too wise and prudent to throw away their powder until there is an enemy to shoot.

PARTY REFORM.

As announced in our local columns yesterday morning, the call of the self styled reform party was received at too late an hour on Wednesday evening to allow editorial comment.

We do not desire to say much now. The GAZETTE has always been in favor of an incorrupt ballot-box and political reformation, and as decidedly opposed to party disruption, when it is unnecessary. It stood isolated and alone during the short lived reign of Know Nothingism, and sustained a great pecuniary loss, and incurred no small amount of displeasure for its fearless advocacy of the equal rights, within Constitutional limits, of native and foreign-born citizens. It has nothing to regret for the course taken then. There are many who entered into that movewent who wish now that its memory could be buried in eternal oblivion. Its ghost haunts them by day and by night. It was an unwise and impolitic movement, and only brought grief to its aiders and abettors. The present attempt to divide the party, which has covered itself with so much glory, is equally unwise and uncalled for. If those whose names are appended to the call really desire reform, they can secure it better in the regularly organized party, than in the unfledgling that has given its first chirp for popular favor. The Executive Committee, or any other, has not circumscribed the rights of any voter. On the contrary, all Republican voters are cordially invited to meet at the usual places, throughout the county, for holding primary elections in the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, on Saturday, August 27th, and elect delegates from each election district to the different conventions. Does the "call" suggest any better plan? Can the people be better trusted on the second of July, than on the 27th of August? Cannot as good and as true men be elected delegates at the one time as at the other? Who is to determine whether a man is "honest" or dishonest when he offers his ballot?

We took occasion yesterday to converse with some of those gentlemen whose names are appended to the call, and who are, decidedly, among the most honest and influential citizens in Allegheny county. What do these gentlemen say? The first one with whom we conversed said, "The reform men have made a grand mistake. They should have waited till after the regular party made its nominations before they issued their call, and if good men are not nominated on the different tickets, then they would have had some plea for coming before the people as they have done." Our good friend did not know when he signed his name, that selfishness and personal preferment are the predominant principles in the wireworkers, who are engineering a disruption in the Republican party. They seek to be avenged upon it because it has not had due respect for their great worth! and incorruptible purity!!

A second gentleman, one of the most upright and wealthy (though we care not for his wealth) of the singers, informed us that he never had attended a primary meeting, and did not think that he would now. He signed the call merely because he saw the names of some gentlemen appended in whom he had confidence, and was assured that the object was to effect a reformation in the mode of managing the political affairs of the city and country. He had not examined the matter carefully, and his principal object in giving his name was to stimulate the regular party, to which he still adhered, to do its duty and nominate unobjectionable men. If they did this, he would prefer and vote for the regular nominees. We entreat this gentleman to attend the primary meeting in his ward on the 27th of August. We know him to be a good Republican, in favor of nothing but sound doctrine and good men, but if he does not lend his aid, how is the one to be maintained and the other secured?

A third gentleman, equally as upright as any to whom we have referred, and a partner of the one just spoken of, informed us that he did not think he would attend the primary meeting on the 6th of July. He would stand by the old party, and support its nominees with all his heart, if it will nominate good men and true. All he meant by signing his name was to tell the party it must do its duty.

We could give the declarations of many others, but enough has been said to show that the good Republicans of this county are not prepared to obliterate old party lines on account of the empty cry of wolf! wolf! wolf! uttered by a few men, whose sole ambition is personal and political preferment. It will be time enough then for our Democratic friends to sing their Te Deums, when they see if the signers of the call will attend the primary meetings and the October election.

We know that the County and Executive Committee have long since resolved to use their influence to secure the nomination of the most unobjectionable men. In this event, there is not an "honest" Republican whose name is appended to the call, but will vote for the regular nominees.

The weakness of the call, in point of numbers, rather astonishes us. We are informed that canvassers for signatures have been busily at work in the more than one hundred districts in the county, and yet, the number who sign is comparatively very small. Calls in this neighborhood have a significant history. Many a candidate for office has exhibited a more formidable array of names than that which appears on the call for the new party, and met with overwhelming defeat. In no sense, is this call of the self-baptised reform party alarming. Republicans! stand to your guns. Your principles are impregnable. If your usages need reformation, let the correction be applied at once, and victory is certain.

"THE GREEKS ARE AT YOUR DOOR, MADAM."

The eccentric John Randolph, on visiting a lady, found at her house a large number of ladies making clothing to be sent to the suffering Greeks. As he left he saw standing at the door a number of half clad negro children, which called forth the above remark.

This story is often recalled to mind when we see people overlooking evils within their reach and trying to rectify those at a distance. Particularly appropriate does it seem now when we hear some of the ladies of our land so earnestly clamoring for their rights and throwing upon the other sex the entire blame of evils which, in some measure at least, they themselves might remedy. We do not say or believe that woman has all the privileges she should have, that all the avenues of employment or education are open to her which should be, or that she receives sufficient compensation for her work. Yet in the earnest seeking of the removal of these evils, and of some for suffrage, are we not overlooking a thousand "little foxes which spoil the vines" and the killing of which lies within the reach of every woman?

Riding on the street car the other day, we saw a neatly clad young woman enter, holding in her arms a large child. The seats were all occupied by ladies, some of them young, who, by a little inconvenience, could have moved and given that tired mother a seat. Not one stirred. Would a car full of gentlemen treated her in that way? Even had there been no room, would it not have been womanly for some one to have risen and given her a seat, or at least relieved her of her babe? Another thing frequently occurs which brings down on the head of the women the just indignation of the other sex, and which can be seen every day in a crowded car. When a person leaves the car, the ladies on either side the vacant seat will, with a sigh of relief, shake out the compressed ruffles, and fill it, utterly oblivious of the gentlemen probably very tired standing near.

Woman's want of sympathy for woman is a very marked thing. Miss Phelps' "Hedged In" has called forth numberless criticisms, among others that Nixy is an exceptional case and should not be taken as an example of the unfortunate women to be found in such large numbers in all large cities. Is it not, however, too true a picture of how many a girl is first betrayed, and then, without any large-hearted Christian woman like Mrs. Purcell to hold her back, sinks deeper and deeper in the gulf of wickedness. The majority of women like Mrs. Myrtle draw their spotless robes around them and pass by without a word, or more commonly with the Pharisee's self-complacent remark, and stretch forth a hand of welcome to him who dragged a sister to such depths.

There are a few Mrs. Purcells who with energy are trying to help their sex, and the land needs many more.

Servants are a much neglected class, and mistresses of households who are anxious to do good find a mission in their own homes. If, instead of fostering the love of dress and seeming to despise the household duties they would teach these servants faithfulness in the discharge of their duties, and encourage them by a kind word and helping hand it would be easier for both mistress and servant. Many of these girls have in them the elements of true hearted women and with a little care might be made much better. And look out, ladies, lest by your sneers at the drudgery of household work you do not so fill the minds of these girls with the same idea that by and by all of the work instead of a part may fall on your own shoulders. We are drifting that way now. Factories, sewing shops, binderies and even school rooms are being crowded and the kitchens emptied by these who are learning the lesson so plainly taught by many ladies.

This leads to another subject so much talked of at the present, the unhealthfulness of the fashions, and the excess to which they are carried. Nothing new can said on this point. Tight dresses, high heels, lack of exercise have been talked about until every woman in the land knows full well to what those evils lead, and still they are uncorrected.

It is true women do not receive sufficient remuneration for their work, but is there no truth in the objection so often brought that they do not work with the singleness of men. Too many women commence work from sheer necessity and continue it with the hope it is not to be their life business. So where a man works with his whole will a woman uses but half of hers.

Then let women try to be just before they are generous; work with a will to cast the beam from their own eyes, then, not till then can they see clearly to cast the mote from their brother's eye.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

He who sets a good example to his neighbor performs a noble act which brings its own reward. One half of the sins of the world are traceable to a want of better examples about the sinners; and one half the virtuous deeds are performed because those who do them are animated with praiseworthy ambition to imitate the actions of their neighbors, and to be as good as they. Example is everything in life and whether for evil or for good we all follow in the direction led by others, perhaps willingly, perhaps unconsciously. Governments, like individuals, set examples which are adopted by other nations. If all rulers were wise and good and virtuous, the world would be much better and the people more contented and happier. There would be less disposition to indulge in the horrors of war, less ambition to acquire domain and riches, less desire for worldly honor, fame and conquest, less tyranny and oppression. But so long as this earth holds together there will be a variety of examples set, the good, the wicked, the humble the ambitious, the exalted, the depraved, the worthy and the unworthy, and it is the duty of all who would walk the right way through life to guard themselves closely that they may not find their foot paths leading to the ruin accomplished by those whose examples they are following.

In politics, as in social life, parties may profit by example. The Democratic party in itself presents very little worthy of imitation. Its corruption, fraud and general proneness to do that which is not right are features which should be avoided; but its adhesiveness, the close communion of its members, the solidity of its ranks are worthy at least of emulation. A Democrat is rarely or never found faithless to his party organization. He fully realizes that on his tenacity to the party depends the success and the power of the party; that his individual grievances and causes for complaint can best be redressed and corrected within the ranks, and he sympathizes with no organized bolters or sore-heads who would have reform at the expense of destroying the organization to be reformed. In all this the zealous Democrat sets many heedless and unthinking Republicans an example worthy of imitation. What sane mechanic who has built a proud machine perfect in all its parts, and which has accomplished the greater part of the labor for which constructed, would, in the event of something becoming disarranged, lose his patience and smash to pieces the labor of years in order to correct the fault? None would do so. The wise man would stand by the machine and patiently work till the parts once more moved in harmony and its work went on undisturbed. So with a party. It may be perfect in organization and object, but errors may creep into it and disturb its harmonious action. Bad men may fasten to and clog the machinery, may work out their own ends and retard the work, but can they be disposed of by no means other than the entire destruction of the machinery itself? Are the people so powerless to act that they cannot effect any needed reform within the party, but must have recourse to its enemies, with whom they join to destroy that which cost so much in its construction? We think not. It is therefore a matter of deep regret that some good Republicans have been seduced into signing a paper which enlists them, not strictly under the banner of reform, but under the flag of the opposition. They aim, perhaps honestly enough, to effect a reform where reform is needed, but they go the wrong way about it, and help the common enemy to triumph where triumph under other circumstances would be impossible. We do hope that those who have signed the published call for a third party will stop to consider what good will result should their diversion secure the success of the Democratic party in Allegheny county, and if they can conscientiously expect any reform in public matters should that party gain the ascendancy. Let them stand by the party, have a word in the selection of the delegates who make up the conventions, take an interest in Republican doings, and our word for it they will be more powerful and more felt than if they follow the lead of office seeking demagogues, who are now engineering the new organization.

A CARD.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Noticing my name to a call entitled "Independent Republican Movement," I would state that I am not in sympathy with this movement, as I never have been a Republican; but I intend to remain, as I have always been, an uncompromising Democrat, from honest convictions.

SAMUEL MCMASTERS, Alderman.

Who Makes Your Dresses?

A touching story is told of the daughter of Sir Robert Peel. Her father gave her as a birthday present, a gorgeous riding habit, and went out with her on the the same day for an airing in the park, his heart swelling with paternal pride as he rode by her side. Shortly afterwards she sickened and died of typhus fever of the most malignant type; and when inquiry was made as to how she had caught the infection, it was discovered that the habit, bought from one of the London Western tradesmen, had been made in a miserable attic, where the husband of the seamstress was lying ill of fever, and that it had been used by her to cover him in his shivering fits. Thus, whether we will believe it or not, the safety of the highest is bound up with the condition of the lowest, and if we neglect their material, moral and spiritual interests, there will come a dreadful Nemesis to mark the divine displeasure.

Female Education.

A lady of Hatfield, Hampshire county, Massachussetts, has, by her will, left over $300,000 for the establishment of a college for the high education of young women, so as to afford privileges equal in all respects to those enjoyed by young men. One-half the bequest may be invested in buildings and grounds, and the other half is to be invested as a permanent fund, the interest of which is to be used for paying the salaries of teachers and procuring a library and apparatus. The testatrix, in her will, expressed the opinion that, by a higher and more thoroughly Christian educatian of women, their wrongs will be redressed, their wages adjusted, their weight of influence in reforming the evils of society greatly increased, and their power of good as teachers, as writers, as mothers, and as members of society, will be incalculably enlarged.

THE Louisville Courier Journal of Monday says: The Directors of the Mechanics' Bank, which was robbed in such a bold manner on Friday night, held a meeting yesterday. The extent of the loss was not fully ascertained, but it will not greatly exceed the amount first stated, viz: $65,000. The special deposits were left untouched and will be delivered at any time, and we are authorized to state that every dollar of the deposits will be paid. Many of the most influential merchants and business men have kindly proffered all the aid that may be necessary to enable the bank to resume business. A meeting of the Directors will be held to-day and a definite plan of action agreed upon. The stockholders will be the only losers, and the stock is so divided that the loss will not fall heavily upon any one. Mr. H. L. Pope, the cashier, who so nearly lost his life through the brutal treatment of the robbers, suffered severely from his injuries Sunday, but we are glad to state was much better yesterday. The robbers have not yet been captured, but the authorities who have the matter in hand are confident of ultimate success.

THE cutting of wheat is progressing in all the counties of East Tennessee. Some little smut is reported and considerable tangled grain, but the yield will be enormous.

The Mexican Paradise.

We find the following in a letter to the San Francisco Bulletin:

The warfare to which we have been accustomed in Mexico for years, has entirely lost its military character. Subordination has ceased, the great heads of the revolution have been deserted by their followers, and the colonels, captains and lieutenants have become common robbers. The notorious Bravo meeting one afternoon a poor old man on one of his solitary walks, kindly informed himself of his state of health, and ascertaining that he owned a small ranche, Bravo made himself known and desired the loan of $100, to be sent next morning to his headquarters. The ranchero collected that sum with the greatest trouble, and sent it to the address given, and while Bravo kindly sat down to write a receipt, one of his officers came in and observed that he considered himself entitled to a share. Unable to come to an understanding they drew their revolvers, and Bravo killed his competitor.

A few days after, this valiant gang attacked the ranch of one Bernardino Fiqueroa, who himself was sick in bed; his sons and servants tried to defend themselves, but they were all killed and fire set to the house, in which he and the female occupants perished. Even an out-house, with all the cattle, was wantonly burned.

Another fellow, named Casimixo Alonso, at the head of about 200 men, dispatched a body of twenty-five men to the hacienda of Ecuandero, but finding resistance, had to retire. Unfortunately the brave inhabitants sallied out in pursuit of the robbers, but Alonso came to the rescue. The consequence was that fifty of the inhabitants were killed, the hacienda pillaged and the women outraged.

The hacienda of San Nicholas has also been plundered by Lozano's gang, and the inhabitants of Telotepec lost about forty men by approaching too near to Rosario, where Bravo had concentrated his forces.

Letters from San Luis Potosi brought the information that Gen. Martinez's forces are masters of the Valle del Maiz, on the Tampico road, and that they raise a contribution of 25 per cent. on all goods coming up from the latter port in the shape of import duty. The arrieros, who refused payment, lost their mules and horses.

However, these gallant deeds are not only confined to Mexicans, as the sons of other nations try to take a hand in this game. An American named Encken is the lord of the high road from Puebla to City of Mexico. Some Frenchmen are troubling the peace in the State of Oajaca; and a Belgian named Louis Phillippe has for some time been the terror of parts of Michoacan. The inhabitants of Turicato, near Tacambaro, tired of these continual annoyances, finally combined in an expedition against the said Belgian, who was made a prisoner and shot the next day.

The women have also given lately some evidence of personal courage. The ranch of Antonio Hernandez, near Haxcala, was attacked by one Moreno during the absence of the owner, and for the confessed purpose of kidnapping his two daughters. The sons looked for a hiding-place, but the mother seized a large stick, and, crying for help, did so good work that her sons and daughters finally came to her assistance, drove the robbers off, and even captured one horse and four muskets. If we take in consideration that in many villages there are ten times more women than men—the revolutions having made great havock among the male sex—it becomes almost a necessity for the female sex to look out for their own protection.

Mysteries of the "Free List."

Inquiring minds both in and out of Congress have been grievously disturbed by the appearance in the free list of the tariff of the articles "Alkekengi" and "Xylotile." Some persons insist that the first of these substances has no actual existence, and that the mysterious name originated years ago by the "pieing" of the type in printing a tariff bill, and has ever since been retained in every subsequent bill, on the principle of adhering to ancient custom. Others, however, contend that "Alkekengi" and "Xylotile" really exist in nature, but give widely differing accounts of their respective uses and composition. It may, therefore, be some satisfaction to people generally to know that "Alkekengi" is a medical remedy for gout, and is claimed to be more efficacious than "Colchicum." The "Physalis Alkekengi" or "common winter cherry," is a perennial herbaceous plant, growing wild in the south of Europe and cultivated in our gardens. The fruit is a round red berry resembling a cherry, and containing numerous flat, kidney-shaped seeds. The leaves and the berry have an acid, bitterish taste, and the bitter principle has been extracted and named "Physalin." "Xylotile," derived from "Xulon" wood and "tilos" flock or down, is a delicately fibrous variety "Chrysotile," of various shades of wood-brown and green, and comes from Sterzing, in the Tyrol. "Chrysotile" is a fibrous variety of serpentine, produced by the alteration of other minerals—Asbestos, Actinolite, Bronzite, &c.—and has been found in Silesia, in Anglesey and near New Haven, Conn. Xylotile, we believe, is also found in Canada, and an enterprising proprietor there got it put into the free list.

Coal Oil Explosion.

About noon on Wednesday last the alarm of fire was sounded in our streets and the engines were promptly gotten out, but the cry soon ceasing it was supposed to have been groundless. Such was, however, not entirely the case. A young girl, daughter of Mr. George Fridinger, living in the family of Dr. Halm, on East Antietam street, in handling a can of coal oil, suffered it to explode, burning her severely and setting fire to the premises. This caused the alarm, but the fire was soon extinguished. The girl, we regret to say, was badly burned, but Dr. Scott being promptly called in, administered to her relief.

After writing the foregoing, and during the succeeding night, the girl expired from the effects of the burning, which were much more serious than at first supposed. We furthermore learn that this catastrophy was caused by her ignorance of the nature of petroleum. It seems she was engaged in kindling a fire in the stove, which she had some difficulty in getting started, when she picked up the oil can, containing about a gallon of the fluid, and commenced pouring it upon the fire. With the first drop the can exploded, causing a report as loud as a cannon and enveloping the girl in flames. Dr. Halm, who was up stairs, rushed down and seizing an oil cloth threw it around her, finally extinguishing the flames, but not until she had been mortally injured. The doctor in the attempt was quite severely burnt in one of his hands, from which he is still suffering.—Hagerstown Herald.

A Vegetable Stone.

We were shown one day last week a stone about two inches in length, and one inch in thickness, nearly the shape of a bean, by Mr. Nicholas Plummer, who resides near North Liberty, in this county. We were asked if we had any idea as to what the stone owed its origin, and upon answering that we did not, Mr. Plummer gave us a history of its formation. He said at one time he was afflicted with rheumatism, and was told by two or three persons that if he would procure a common Irish potato and carry it in his pocket, it would cure him. He doubted the story, but at last was prevailed upon to try the simple remedy. He procured the potato, and after carrying it nearly eighteen months it turned to stone, and the stone shown was the original potato and the veritable stone, as Mr. Plummer is willing to make oath. He states that he was perfectly cured of the rheumatism and is not now afflicted with it. The stone is light brown in color, with white streaks in it, and has, upon being struck with a knife, quite a substantial and metallic ring, showing that it is sound and firm, and just about as much of a success in the capacity of a rock as it was in the shape of a potato.—West Union (Ohio) Defender.

A Chinese Machine Shop.

The Chinese Government has a workshop on the banks of the Wangpoo river, under the superintendence of an American named Falls. During the past three years, three gunboats have been launched and fully equipped. A fourth vessel will soon be finished. Two pairs of engines, of one hundred and twenty horse power each, have been constructed, together with the machinery for two other pairs of similar size, and one of four hundred is nearly finished. Besides all the tools and machinery required in the Arsenal have been manufactured there. They have a rifling machine for eight, ten and fifteen-inch guns, besides turning out an average of six twenty-four-pounders and sixteen-pound field pieces per month, in addition to two hundred stand of rifles and about five hundred smooth bores. In one building they have in operation twenty rifling machines, gun-barrel boring machines, planing and shaping machines and rolling mills.

THE ALARM-BELL OF ATRI.

BY H. W. LONGFELLOW.

At Atri, in Abruzzo, a small town
Of ancient Roman date, but scant renown—
One of those little places that have run
Half up the hill, beneath a blazing sun,
And then sat down to rest, as if to say,
"I climb no farther upward, come what may;"
The Re Giovanni, now unknown to fame,
So many monarchs since have borne the name,
Had a great bell hung in the market place
Beneath a roof, projecting some small space,
By way of shelter from sun and rain.
Then rode he through the streets with all his train,
And, with the blast of trumpets loud and long,
Made proclamation, that whenever wrong
Was done to any man, he should but ring
The great bell in the square, and he, the king,
Would cause the Syndic to decide thereon.
Such was the proclamation of King John.

How happily the days in Atri sped,
What wrongs were righted, need not here be said.
Suffice it that, as all things must decay,
The hempen rope at length was worn away,
Unraveled at the end, and, strand by strand,
Loosened and wasted in the ringer's hand,
Till one, who noted this in passing by,
Mended the ropes with braids of briony,
So that the leaves and tendrils of the vine
Hung like a votive offering at a shrine.

By chance it happened that in Atri dwelt
A knight, with spur on heel and sword in belt,
Who loved to hunt the wild boar in the woods,
Who loved his falcons with their crimson hoods,
Who loved his hounds and horses, and all sports
And prodigalities of camps and courts;
Loved or had loved them; for at last grown old
His only passion was his love of gold.

He sold his horses, sold his hawks and hounds,
Rented his vineyards and his garden grounds,
Kept but one steed, his favorite steed of all,
To starve and shiver in a naked stall,
And, day by day, sat brooding in his chair,
Devising plans how best to hoard and spare.

At length he said: "What is the use or need
To keep at my own cost this lazy steed,
Eating his head off in my stables here,
When rents are low and provender is dear?
Let him go feed upon the public ways;
I want him only for the holidays."
So the old steed was turned into the heat
Of the long, lonely, silent, shadowless street;
And wandered in suburban lanes forlorn,
Barked at by dogs, and torn by brier and thorn.

One afternoon, as in that sultry clime
It is the custom in the summer time,
With bolted doors and window-shutters closed,
The inhabitants of Atri slept or dozed;
When suddenly upon their senses fell,
The loud alarm of the accusing bell!
The Syndic started from his sweet repose
Turned on his couch, then listened, and then rose
And donned his robes, and with reluctant pace,
Went panting forth into the market place
Where the great bell upon its cross-beam swung,
Reiterating with persistent tongue,
In half articulate jargon, the old song:
"Some one hath done a wrong, hath done a wrong."

But ere he reached the belfry's light arcade,
He saw, or thought he saw, beneath its shade,
No shape of human form, of woman born,
But a poor steed dejected and forlorn,
Who with uplifted head and eager eye
Was tugging at the vines of briony.
"Domeneddio!" cried the Syndic straight,
"This is the Knight of Atri's steed of state!
He calls for justice, being sore distressed,
And pleads his cause as loudly as the best."

Meanwhile from street and lane a noisy crowd
Had rolled together, like a summer cloud,
And told the story of the wretched beast
In five and twenty different ways at least,
With much gesticulation and appeal
To heathen gods in their excessive zeal.
The Knight was called and questioned; in reply
Did not confess the fact, did not deny;
Treated the matter as a pleasant jest,
And set at naught the Syndic and the rest,
Maintaining, in an angry undertone,
That he should do what pleased him with his own.

And thereupon the Syndic gravely read
The proclamation of the King; then said:
"Pride goeth forth on horseback grand and gay,
But cometh back on foot and begs its way;
Fame is the perfume of heroic deeds,
Of flowers of chivalry and not of weeds!
These are familiar proverbs; but I fear
They never yet have reached your nightly ear.
What fair renown, what honor, what repute
Can come to you from starving this poor brute?
He who serves well and speaks not merits more
Than they who clamor loudest at the door.
Therefore the law decrees, that as this steed
Served you in youth, henceforth you shall take heed
To comfort his old age, and to provide Shelter in stall, and food and field beside."

The Knight withdrew abashed; the people all
Led home the steed in triumph to his stall.
The King heard and approved, and laughed in glee,
And cried aloud: "Right well it pleaseth me!
Church bells at best but ring us to the door;
But go not in to mass; my bell doth more;
It cometh into court and pleads the cause
Of creatures dumb and unknown to the laws,
And this shall make, in every Christian clime,
The Bell of Atri famous for all time."

THE LIVING MACHINE.

Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works become disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to the chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried farther, for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded. The eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ, whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopœa have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia, the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

PLANING MILL MEN

TAKE NOTICE!
The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and of wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being more particularly intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance; and it is so constructed as to entirely avoid the use of joint strips, and to prevent water from entering the joint of the gaping or the showing of the joints by the action of the weather on the timber.
Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, and leaving no refuges for bugs.
He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."
He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:
To G. A. Mundorff, the right of the territory south of the river in said county.
To McQuewan & Douglass, the right for the First ward, Pittsburgh.
To Hill, Patterson & Co., shop rights for their mill, Sixth ward, Pittsburgh.
To Alex. McClure, for the borough of McKeesport.
To Parker & Paul, for First, Second, Third and Fourth wards, city of Allegheny.
To Reed Brothers, shop right at their mill in Seventh ward, city of Allegheny.
To Dunham, Saint & Co., for the boroughs of Sharpsburg and Etna; also the townships of Shaler and Indiana.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS,
THURSDAY, June 23, 1870.

CATTLE.

The transactions in cattle since the date of our last report were large, unusually so, the sales in the aggregate reaching over two thousand head, and as will be inferred, the market has been an active one, though somewhat unsatisfactory, and prices are lower. The most of the cattle this week were taken on Philadelphia account, as Philadelphia buyers, for some cause or other, bought at figures which the New Yorkers were unable to stand. Wm. Kelly, who usually buys largely here every week for New York, had not taken a single bullock up until noon to-day, and it is not likely that he will buy anything this week. Briggs, another New York shipper, has bought nothing this week, and it is probable that there are other names that could be mentioned in this connection. One thing tended to keep down the York buyers is the fact that cattle can be shipped just as cheaply from Chicago as from Pittsburgh to New York, and even, it is said, cheaper, and consequently, prices are higher, relatively here than in New York.

Compared with last week, prices are from ¼ to ½ of a cent per pound lower. Several droves of extra cattle changed hands at 9 cts which last week would doubtless have brought 9⅜ or 9½, and medium steers, which last week sold at 8, were disposed of this week at 7⅝. Stock cattle may be quoted at 4⅜ to 6 cts., according to quality and condition.

SHEEP.

The arrivals of sheep although not unusually large, were about up to the usual number, and while the supply was about equal to the demand, the market was strong, and compared with last week prices ¼ to ½ a cent per pound higher. The advance in price may be attributed to the decline in freights, and the reduced freights did benefit the shippers much as the reduction in the cost of the transportation was added on to the cost of the sheep. Prime to extra sheep averaging 90 to 95 lbs may be quoted at 6 to 6½ cts. Medium grades sold at 5 to 5½, and common at 4@4⅜. One bunch of extra Kentucky lambs brought 6⅞.

HOGS.

The hog market is very dull and depressed, and prices, compared with last week, have still further declined. The hot weather is telling with considerable effect on the demand for fresh pork and many butchers are killing no hogs at all now, while others are not using one half the usual number. Philadelphia hogs may now be quoted at 9@9⅜c, and Yorkers at 8⅛@8⅜c.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, June 23, 1870.

As will have been noticed by our dispatches, both flour and wheat have again stiffened, East and West, and that the "bull's" neck has not been broken, as was generally predicted at the close of last week. Nothwithstanding, the weather is and has been for some days past all that could be possibly desired, and this seems to be general all over the country, and that the indications for a full average yield of wheat are most encouraging, the feeling seems to be rather bullish in the leading centers, which is owing to a belief that the crops in Europe will fall short, and that very heavy purchases have been made within the past two weeks in New York on French account—this is what the belief in high prices is based on.

We clip the following from the Chicago Republican on the wheat market, present as well as prospective: "As to the future of wheat opinions run very nearly in the same channel. It is argued that present prices are comparatively low, and that wheat in July will sell much nearer $1,50 per bushel than now. Indeed one cent per bushel is now freely offered for a privilege to call at $1,30 during July. Nearly all believe in higher prices, but there are a great many who fear to venture in operations. One of two things is inevitable, however: There must either be a large appreciation in values at New York, or a decline here, else there will be no wheat of consequence shipped from this port. With a margin of a shilling a bushel against them shippers are not foolish enough to buy wheat to export. With good prospects for a large yield this year, and liberal stocks left over from the harvest of 1869, we cannot believe that any large and substantial advance will be established in prices. A very large per cent. of last year's crop is still in first hands, having been held back on account of low prices, while the stocks at the more prominent grain centers in the country are above the average at this season, and this is the reason why we do not anticipate any large appreciation in values. We may be wrong in our conclusions, but we would advise our farmer friends to sell their wheat before the prices go down.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged; Common Soda, 4c; Refined, 4⅛c; Pearls, 9⅛c; Pots, 7⅛c.

APPLES—Small sales of new crop at $4½@5 per bbl. Receipts as yet are light.

BUTTER—Is in good supply and dull and good to strictly prime fresh may be fairly quoted at 15@18.

BROOM—CORN—Sales at 13@14c.

BEANS—There is scarcely any inquiry and the market is dull and prices nominal at $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

CORNMEAL—Demand light and the same is true of the supply. We continue to quote at 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3⅛ per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Demand light but this is nearly always the case at this season of the year; we continue to quote standard brands at 23 cts in a jobbing way.

CIDER—No. 1 sweet cider is quoted at $10 per bbl.

CHEESE—Hamburg is quoted at 13; Ohio Factory, at 14, and Ohio Goshen at 14⅛.

DRIED FRUIT—Dull but unchanged. Apples 4⅛@5⅛; Peaches, 6@7 for quarters, and 7⅛@8⅛ for halves.

EGGS—Continue very dull and the arrivals are liberal, and the supply fully up to the demand. We now quote at 20@21c.

FEATHERS—Quiet and unchanged, at 80@85 cts. to the trade.

FLOUR—Is firm, but unchanged, and the stocks in this market are pretty well reduced. Dealers are not anxious to effect sales, and as a general thing they want their customers to buy just as little as possible, being apprehensive that they may have to replace at a greater cost. We now quote well established brands of either spring or winter wheat western flours at $6⅛@6¼, though there are more sales being made at the inside than the outside quotation.

GRAIN—Wheat is in steady demand, and may be quoted firm at $1,20@1,25 for fair to good red, and $1,27@1,28 for choice. Oats dull and weaker, though holders generally are unwilling to make concessions, being pretty confident that the market will again improve. Dealers are only offering 48 in first hands, and we can report sales on wharf and track at 51@51⅛. Philadelphia it appears is off altogether. Corn is dull as ever but unchanged; we continue to quote at 84@85 on wharf, and 87@88, free on cars. Rye also, is dull, and may be quoted at 85, in first, and 90 in second hands. We can report a sale of 300 bush new crop Tennessee Barley at $1,10.

GROCERIES—Market rather duller but unchanged. Raw Sugars, 10@12 cts., as to quality; Crushed, 14⅛; "A" Coffee, 13⅛; "B," 13; Extra C, 12⅛; "C," 12⅛. New Orleans Molasses firm at 80@85. Syrups dull. Coffees weak but unchanged, 18⅛@22⅛, for fair to choice Rio. Rice—8⅛ for Rangoon, and 9c for Carolina.

HAY—Is dull but unchanged with sales at $9@16, from country wagons.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3⅛ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1,75.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1 is quoted at $1,23@1,25 and No. 2 at 80.

PROVISIONS—Hams firm and higher, otherwise market is unchanged. Shoulders, 14 cts for plain; Ribbed Sides, 16⅛; Clear, Sides, 17⅛; Breakfast Bacon, 19⅛; Sugar Cured Hams, Canvassed, 22⅛@22⅛. Lard quoted firm at 17 in tcs, and 18 in buckets and kegs. Mess Pork $31.

POTATOES—Sales of prime Peach Blows at 65@70 per bushel. Sales of new crop at $4⅛@4⅛ per bbl.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

PEARL BARLEY—No. 4, 5⅛c per lb; No. 3, 5⅛; No. 1, 6⅛. Oat Meal—A & B per bbl, of 200 lbs, $10; for half bbl, 100 lbs, $5,50.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in active demand, and crushers are taking all that offers at $2,25. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
THURSDAY, June 23, 1870.

The oil market continues very sluggish and neglected, and the tendency is still downward. We alluded to the fact yesterday that about the only thing that would have any influence in bringing about a reaction in the oil market and advancing prices, would be a falling off in the production. To-day comes a report that a new well having been struck at or near West Hickory, which if reports are true, is yielding at the rate of 250 bbls per day. This does not look much like a diminished production, and, therefore, it is fair to conclude, that the prospects for higher prices are not encouraging, as the indications now are, that instead of a falling off there is likely to be a still further increase. That is the situation at present.

CRUDE.

Continues very dull and drooping. Sale of 2,000 bbls spot at 11⅛c; and 1,000 bbls seller July at 11⅛c; lines for last six months, that is for a thousand each month, are being offered at 13c; the last sales of this kind were at 12⅛c.

REFINED.

Very dull; not a single sale reported. June and July quoted at 26⅛@26⅛c; August at 27c; and September at 27⅛c; buyer all year, nominal at 28c.

RECEIPTS CRUDE OIL.

J. S. Ramsey & Co. 14 bbls, on account T. Chess; Wm. McCutcheon 240, on account E. P. Long; Com'l. O. W. 320, on account J. B. Barbour; J. Gallagher 86, on account J. B. RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with 3 feet 2 inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. The weather continues clear and hot and seemingly settled.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report excepting the regular packets.

The Juniata, we are glad to state, with the assistance of the towboat Lake Erie, succeeded in getting through Rowley on Wednesday afternoon, and it is to be hoped that she will have no further trouble.

The Wild Duck stuck one of her barges on the left of Brunot on Wednesday evening, but it was thought it would be easily gotten off. She returned and left again yesterday with two additional barges, and her three barges it is said will contain something like 900 tons. Whitten brothers are her pilots.

The Belle, from Geneva, arrived and departed as usual.

The Granite State, Capt. Wash Kerr, is the regular packet for Portsmouth to-day, leaving promptly at 4 P. M. The Granite State is an excellent summer boat, being of very light draught. She receipts freight and passengers through to Cincinnati.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer: It is reported that the body of young Pollock, who fell from the General Lytle a week or so ago, and was drowned, has been found at the lower end of Switzerland county. Young Pollock had his life insured in companies of this city for $21,000 on the day before he is alleged to have been drowned. His father, who was with him on the boat, and was the only one who saw him fall overboard, returned to this city a day or two after, and claimed the insurance upon his son's life. The Insurance Companies are not satisfied that every thing is right, and propose to contest the payment of the insurance.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: Capt. H. H. Down has disposed of his interest and retired from the management of the Spencer House. The Captain will be remembered as the commander of the Wild Wagoner, a universal favorite in the Cincinnati and Wheeling trade. We expect soon to find him in command of one of our fine local passenger packets, being admirably qualified for the position.

—A dispatch from Louisville under date of Tuesday says: The following towboats will leave to-night for the South with coal: Grand Lake, 280,000 bushels; Boaz, 350,000; Hercules, 275,000; Hornet, 300,000; Mary Ann, 250,000; Ajax, 250,000; Dick Fulton, 260,000; Sam Brown, 250,000; Stella, 200,000.

—The famous Natchez and Robert E. Lee leaves New Orleans together, on Thursday, June 30. On her recent upward trip the Natchez advertised that she would not land or take passengers or freight for any point between New Orleans and Natchez.

—According to a dispatch from Fort Benton, yesterday, the Nick Wall is now enroute for St. Louis. She was reported in a perilous position at Spread Eagle Bar a few days ago.

—The Lake City brought 100 bales of cotton down to Shreveport, on account of the underwriters, and claims $24 per bale for her trouble.

—The Sallie arrived at Fort Benton on the 15th inst. She left St. Louis in April with a good freight.

—The Gallatin was sold by the United States Marshal at Memphis on Tuesday for $2,150.

—The Mollie Ebert was to have left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday.

—The Belle, from Brownsville, arrived and departed as usual.

—The Carolina sunk recently in Red River above the Raft.

—The Ida Rees has laid up at Leavenworth.

PROFESSOR WALKER, the distinguished English Botanist, discovered in Australia an excellent Botanic remedy, an effectual cure for Indigestion, Billious and Liver Complaints, and communicated the same to the Philadelphia Botanic Institute. The Secretary will, on application, forward free to all, this important recipe.

The Medical Reform Society who makes this announcement do not make any charge for this recipe, the object being to demonstrate the superiority of Botanic over every other practice of medicine, but in return request those who are benefitted to forward to the Society a statement of their case, and thus aid with facts the present movement in medical reform. Enclose a directed envelope to the "SECRETARY OF THE BOTANIC INSTITUTE," 816 South 15th street, Philadelphia. je4:y2

CHARLES L. FROST, }

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund.

The greater part of the road is already completed and shows large earnings, and the balance of the work is rapidly progressing.

We unhesitatingly recommend these Bonds as the safest and best investment in the market.

U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, only return five per cent. interest, while these pay eight and one-quarter per cent. in Gold, and we regard the security equally good.

The Company reserve the right, without notice, to advance the price.

Body Found—The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Monongahela River near the City Farm last evening. It was brought to the city and left at the station house, where it remains, awaiting the action of the Coroner. The body, from appearances, has been lying in the water a considerable length of time.

This meeting is intended to be a grand gathering of the earnest friends of temperance reform, and promises to be one of special interest.

Seriously Injured.

John Hengler, a stone cutter employed at the new City Hall building, was seriously injured yesterday morning. He was working in the Custom House yard, and the brick layers were engaged removing the scaffolding from the side of the building, and one of the cross braces fell and struck Hengler, who, when picked up, was found to be badly injured. His right arm was fractured and he was also severely bruised on the shoulders and back. The injured man was taken to his home on Fountain street, Allegheny city, and medical attendance summoned.

Fashionable Wedding.

Turner Hall, on Sixth Avenue, was on Wednesday night the scene of a brilliant and fashionable event, the marriage of Mr. Morris Morganstern (son of our esteemed citizen Joseph Morganstern, Esq.) to Miss Pauline Hoffheimer, of this city. The affair was conducted in elegant style. The hall was brilliantly illuminated on this occasion, and the guests were among the most prominent of our citizens. An excellent band of music discoursed to the Terpsichorean devotees. The entertainment was closed with a grand banquet, at which some two hundred invited guests participated. We wish the happy couple a long and prosperous life.

Oakland Driving Park.

On Saturday, June 25th, at threee o'clock, at the above Park there will be one of the grandest trots which has taken place in this vicinity, outside the well remembered Dexter trot. The following horses have been entered by their respective owners, viz: Annie Watson, Latham, Meg and Oakland or Davy. The well-know reputation of these horses will no doubt draw a large crowd, and as the best of order will be insured, and no failure of the horses to put in appearance, the public will be offorded a rare opportunity for enjoyment. The admission is one dollar, and with a good day and good track, we expect some excellent time wil be made. Let all attend.

A New Billiard Hall.

The lovers of billiards will be pleased to learn that a new and handsomely fitted billiard hall will be opened on to-morrow (Saturday) in the Excelsior Omnibus Company's building, Liberty street, opposite the Union Depot. The hall has been fitted up in first class style, the fixtures being new and of the best qualities. There are eight new tables from the celebrated manufactory of Julius Balk, which are provided with Phelan's patent combination cushions. The hall is well lighted and well ventilated, and by far the handsomest and best in the city. Mr. Joseph Matthews, the manager, has had extended experience in the business, and as there will be no bar, and as match games for money or betting in any way will be strictly prohibited, we have no doubt the Excelsir Billiard Hall will be the most popular in the city with those who enjoy the game, and who does not?

The formal opening will take place to-morrow, at two o'clock, at which time Messrs. Julius Balk and Phil. Tieman, of Cincinnati, will be present and play the opening game and give an exhibition. The manager would be pleased to see some of his old friends and customers present.

HALE, the well known merchant tailor, whose establishment is at the corner of Penn and Sixth streets, left last evening for New York, whence he will sail Saturday on the steamship City of London for Europe. We had supposed Mr. Hale should be satisfied with the distinction already attained, being at the head of an establishment unsurpassed by any in the country, east or west; but his ambition will not rest until he has visited London and Paris, the greatest metropoli in the world. He expects to return in September, and will bring with him the very latest styles of make and also of material, and will have established arrangements with foreign manufacturers of such fabrics as are suited to his home trade. Such enterprise as Mr. Hale exhibits is sure to be appreciated by the class of customers for whom he delights to cater. We wish him a safe and prosperous voyage and speedy return.

Horse Racing for Money.

The present management of the Oakland Park, have from the outset given notice that the place would not be used as a gambling ground but for the legitimate purposes of horse racing without attendant betting. It seems that in pursuing such a course they have excited the ire of some sporting men who have laid the following complaints against the managers before Wilkes' tribunal, the Sporting Times, of New York, from which we quote:

"Some four or five weeks ago there was a match made for two races between Sam Hill, a gray pacer owned in Pittsburgh, and Gipsey, a roan pacer owned here. The first race was to come off over our track here, and the second over the track of the Oakland Driving Association at Pittsburgh—the second race to be just one week later than the first, fair day and track. The first race came off over our track, and the gray horse won the race in three straight heats. While returning to the city after this race, A bets B that the roan horse will not take a heat at the Oakland track, the race to take place that day one week. Now, here is the trouble: The Oakland Driving Association is composed of a set of gentlemen who find it necessary to continually remind the public that they 'really are gentlemen'—hence they gladly grasped this opportunity to convince the doubtful minds of the public that they do not countenance horse racing, and therefore would not allow this race to come off over their track, losing no chance of telling every body that their track is a gentleman's track. Nevertheless, some of the knowing ones intimate that the real reason is petty jealousy of some of these self-styled gentlemen against the owner of the gray horse. Had that not been, their gentlemanly consciences would have been easy enough to allow the race to come off over their track. But be that as it may, the second race did not come off, and A at once called on the stakeholder and called the bet off, the stakeholder paying over the stakes A had put up. B never came near the stakeholder and knew nothing about A calling off the bet. Subsequently the owners of the horses came together and agreed to go the race on the Beaver track, some two weeks later, in order to get the roan into better condition. At this race the roan did win one heat and B now claims that he is entitled to the bet; while A claims that he called the bet off on the day it was originally to come off, and that a race run at Beaver has nothing whatever to do with a race made to be run at Oakland. 2. On the day the match for these two races was made, C bet D that the roan would not win a heat. C claims the money, saying that as the roan did not take a heat at the first race in Beaver and the second race never came off at Oakland, he is entitled to the stakes. Who wins? Answer—1. The bet is off. The race afterward gone was practically a new race. The conduct of those who manage Oakland Park is the most extraordinary that we ever heard of. We rather think that the members of Prospect Park, Narragansett Park, the Boston Associa-tion, Fleetwood Park, Buffalo Association, Dexter Park, &c., are quite as much gentlemen as they are; and none of them would have thought of objecting to such a race. 2. The bet is off. The roan might have won a heat if the second race, as made, had been gone."

RELIGIOUS.

Meeting of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Reunited Presbyterian Church—First Day's Proceedings.

The members of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Reunited Presbyterian Church met at ten o'clock yesterday, in the First Presbyterian Church, Wood street, (Rev. Mr. Scovel pastor).

The meeting was called to order by Rev. John Stockton, D. D., and opened with prayer by Rev. James Alexander, D. D.

Rev. John Stockton, D. D., then preached the opening sermon.

The Act of the General Assembly of the Reunited Church creating the Synod was then read as a basis of action, after which the roll of members was made out and perfected as nearly as possible.

The Synod then adjourned for one hour, in order to allow the members to partake of a sumptuous dinner which had been prepared and was served in the lecture room convenient to the church.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At half past one o'clock the Synod re-assembled and was called to order by the presiding officer Rev. Dr. Stockton, after which the roll was called with a view to perfecting it.

The chairman announced that the Synod was now ready to receive nominations for Moderator.

Dr. Marshall said that he desired to present the name of Rev. W. B. McIlvain D. D., as a candidate for Moderator and hoped that he would be elected by acclamation.

Dr. McIlvain hoped that the Moderator now occupying the chair would be permitted to keep the chair during the deliberations of this body.

The question upon the election of Dr. McIlvaine was called for, and he was elected by acclamation.

Dr. Stockton introduced the Moderator elect, who briefly addressed the Synod.

Dr. Eagleson offered a resolution designating the officers of the Synod to be a Moderator, Permanent Clerk, Stated Clerk, Temporary Clerk and Treasurer. The Moderator and Temporary Clerk to continue in office one year; the Permanent Clerk and Treasurer two years, and the Stated Clerk three years.

Drs. McKiney and Marshall opposed the resolution.

Dr. Eagleson made a lengthy argument in support of it.

Dr. Stockton moved to amend the resolution by striking out the latter clause, which refers to the tenure of office.

Dr. Jacobus called for a division of the question, which was sustained, and the question recurring on the first part of the resolution it was adopted.

On motion the latter clause was laid on the table.

The Synod then went into election of officers with the following result:

Stated Clerk—Rev. Robert Carothers.
Permanent Clerk—Rev. P. S. Davis.
Temporary Clerk—Rev. John McMillan.

On motion of Mr. Jacobus Dr. W. B. McIlvain was elected treasurer by a unanimous vote.

Rev. F. J. Collier offered the following:

Resolved, That a committee of fifteen be appointed, to whom the whole subject of the reconstruction of Presbyteries within the bounds of the Synod of Pittsburgh, and all papers relating thereto, be referred, and that this committee report to the Synod this afternoon, if possible.

Considerable discussion ensued on the resolution.

Dr. Brownson moved that the matter before the house be laid on the table.

The motion was adopted, and Mr. Hill presented the following:

Resolved, That a committee of twelve members be appointed to divide this Synod into Presbyteries and define their boundaries, and to designate the legal successor to such Presbyteries as many lose their present organization by this new organization.

Resolved, That in order to enable this committee to discharge the duty thus devolved upon them, the Synod will immediately after the appointment of said committee enter a free conference in reference to the changes which it may be desirable to make in the existing boundaries of Presbyteries, the members who may desire to speak being limited in their remarks to three minutes each.

The resolutions were adopted and the Moderator appointed the following gentlemen on the committee: Dr. Hill, Dr. Jennings, Rev. Graham, Dr. Bownson, Revs. Flanigan, Reid and F. A. Noble, and Elders Jos. Reed, W. Digby, Hon. N. Ewing, T. L. Patterson and A. J. Hopper.

Dr. Eagleson offered the following:

Resolved That the act of the last Assembly, passed on the — of —— last, by which the Synod of Pittsburgh was constituted, be read.

Resolved, That this act of the last Assembly be recorded in the minutes of this meeting, and that the following paper be recorded in connection with it:

WHEREAS, The territory of the Synod of Pittsburgh, which lies in Western Pennsylvania, is described in part in the foregoing by the lines of the Synods of Harrisburgh and Erie; therefore,

Resolved, That it be recorded in the minutes of the meeting that the territory of the Synod in Western Pennsylvania is bounded on the east by the eastern boundaries of Somerset and Cambria counties; on the north by the northern and northwestern boundary of Cambria county to Black Lick creek, and thence by said creek, and by the Conemaugh, Allegheny and Ohio rivers to the western line of the State; and on the west and south by the western and southern boundaries of the State to the place of beginning; including the counties of Washington, Greene, Fayette, Westmoreland, Somerset, Cambria and the part of Beaver which lies south of the Ohio river; of Allegheny which lies south of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers, and of Indiana which lies south and east of Black Lick creek.

Resolved, That according to the action of the General Assembly the Synod is found to consist of the following Presbyteries and parts of Presbyteries, namely: Redstown, Ohio, Washington, West Virginia, Blairsville, Pittsburgh, lately of the Old school.

On motion of Dr. Jacobus the paper was laid on the table.

Considerable discussion ensued on the admission of correspondening members, and to who were and who were not members of the Synod.

In accordance with the resolution of Mr. Hill, some time was consumed in the discussion of the boards of Presbyteries, and the universal feeling appeared to be that the lines of the Presbyteries be retained as they now exist.

On motion of Rev. Rr. Hill, Revs. Dr. Stockton and Macferron were added to the Committee on Presbyterial Boundaries.

Rev. Dr. McKaig moved that the committee be instructed to divide the Synod into five Presbyteries. After considerable discussion Dr. McKaig's motion was laid on the table.

On motion the Committee on Presbyterial Boundaries, were requested to retire.

THE $5,000,000 FUND.

The Moderater presented a communication from the Committee of the General Assembly, on the five million memorial fund, containing copies of the address of the committee to the people.

Dr. Jacobus offered the following:

Resolved, That a Synodial committee of two ministers and one elder be appointed to co-operate with the Memorial Fund Committe, of the General Assembly.

Resolved, That one minister from each Presbytery be appointed by the Synod, in connection with this central committee, to prosecute the collection of the Memorial Fund in the churches within their respective bounds.

The first resolution was adopted.

Dr. McKaig amended the second resolution by making it enjoin upon the Presbytery to appoint a committee to prosecute the work in their respective Presbyteries.

The amendement was, after some discussion, withdrawn and the question recurring on the resolution it was adopted.

Dr. Jacobus, Rev. Mr. Noble and Elder David Robinson were appointed on the Synodical Committee.

Dr. Jacobus moved that fifteen minutes be spent in devotional exercises.

On motion, a recess was taken until seven o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

The Synod met at seven o'clock, and a collection was taken up among the members to defray the expenses incurred.

PRESBYTERIAL RECONSTRUCTION.

The Committee on Presbyterial Reconstruction reported as follows:

The committee appointed to divide the Synod into Presbyteries, and designate the boundaries, respectfully recommend:

That the territory embraced in the Synod be divided into five Presbyteries, as follows:

BLAIRSVILLE.

On motion, it was resolved that the Presbytery of Blairsville consist of the county of Cambria; so much of Indiana county as lies south and east of Black Lick creek; so much of Westmoreland county as lies north of the Pittsburgh and Bedford turnpike, and so much of Allegheny county as lies east of a line drawn from the mouth of Turtle creek to Turtle Creek village; thence along the Pittsburgh and Greensburg turnpike to where it crosses a run at the eastern side of Wilkinsburgh; thence by a direct line to the mouth of Plum creek on the Allegheny river.

RED STONE.

On motion it was resolved that the Presbytery of Red Stone consist of all of Somerset county, and that part of Westmoreland county south of the Pittsburgh and Bedford turnpike, and the terrirory east of a line commencing on the Monongahela river, north of West Elizabeth, and running west of said town by the Pittsburgh and Beallsville road to the National road at Beallsville, thence by a line west of Jefferson and Carmichaeltown to the Virginia line.

PITTSBURGH.

The Presbytery of Pittsburgh to consist of the following line: Beginning at the mouth of Raccoon creek and running along the road from Georgetown to Washington, not including the latter town, and thence along the national road excluding South Strabane and Somerset township, in Washington county, to the town of Berryville, and from thence along the most frequented road to the town of West Elizabeth, which is not included in said Presbytery, and thence across the Monongahela river, opposite the mouth of Turtle creek, and from thence to the Allegheny river, so as to include the Churches of Swissvale and Wilkinsburg, and excluding Beulah Church, and thence down the Allegheny and Ohio rivers to the place of beginning.

WASHINGTON.

The Presbytery of Washington, to consist of the following: Beginning at the mouth of Raccoon creek, and run along the old road from Georgetown to Washington, including South Strabane and Somerset townships, in Washington county thence along the National road east to Beallsville, and thence by a line running midway between Waynesburg and Jefferson, in Greene county, to the State line, or Mason's and Dixon's line, extended to the Ohio river, and thence along that river to the point of beginning.

The report was accepted, and a motion to consider it seriatim, adopted.

WEST VIRGINIA.

The Presbytery of West Virginia to consist of that portion of the State of West Virginia, lying west of the Allegheny Mountains and south of the Pennsylvania line, extending to the Ohio river.

Mr. Hastings offered an amendment changing the boundary lines of the Blairsville Presbytery as follows:

The western boundary of the Presbytery of Blairsville as follows: "Leaving the Monongahela river at a point one mile below the village of Braddock's Field, thence northward to the township road, along said road to Swissvale station, thence along Pennsylvania Railroad to Wilkinsburg station, thence along Wood street to Frankstown road, thence by township road to Ireland station, on the Allegheny river."

After some discussion, the amendment was carried, and the resolution as amended adopted.

The boundry line of the Presbytery of Redstone was changed as follows, the amendment commencing in the fourth line, after the words "Pittsburgh and Bedford turnpike" "and that portion of Allegheny county the Pittsburgh and Bedford turnpike at Carpenter's, thence by the township road to Crooked Run, thence by said river to the natural road, and thence to Beallsville;" and strikeing out the balance of the resolution, excepting the last thirteen words.

The line of the Pittsburgh Presbytery was changed so as to follow Raccoon Creek to Hickory and then to Georgetown.

Mr. Marshall here stated that the committee had changed the "Ohio" to the "Pittsburgh Presbytery." He desired to have the name Ohio retained for the present.

The report, as amended, was adopted.

The time for the meeting of the several Presbyteries was then announced.

PRESBYTERIAL COMMITTEE.

The following Presbyterial Committee was appointed to correspond with the Synodical Committee on the Memorial Fund: Pittsburgh, Dr. McKinney; Red Stone, Mr. J. M. Barrett; Blairsville, Dr. Hill; West Virginia, Dr. Young, and Washington, Dr. Bronson.

It was moved that when Synod adjourn, it be to meet on the Friday after the second Tuesday in October, in the Second Church, Pittsburgh, at three o'clock P. M.

A vote of thanks was then tendered the ministers and people of Pittsburgh for their hospitality to the members of the Synod.

On motion of Dr. McKinney, Dr. Hall, Dr. Stockton and Mr. Hastings were appointed a committee to have the report of the Committee on the "Reconstruction of the Presbyteries" engrossed and properly prepared for record.

The minutes were read and corrected, after which Synod adjourned.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

The Commencement Exercises Last Evening.

The Pittsburgh Central High School, the college of the people, has through years of contest and strife, enmity and opposition, persevered till it has secured a firm resting place in public estimation, and its class day exercises and commencement performances are awaited with as much anxiety and excite as much interest as similar occasions in the leading and more pretentious places of education in this vicinity. We confess to a partiality for the noble High School. An institution where sons and daughters of the rich and poor, exalted and humble, gather together to receive a high order of education, equal to that imparted in the very best colleges and universities of the land, at the cost of a willing people is worthy the admiration of all classes. We can trace the career and history of many of the past scholars. We find them occupying high positions in society, exalted places in the trades and professions, and there are none but who reflect honor to the Alma Mater. The High School to-day, with its accomplished faculty and full quota of intelligent knowledge seeking scholars, occupies no inferior position among the leading places of education hereabouts, and we trust its mission is but commenced and that year after year it may grow stronger in public esteem, and may be more useful in imparting solid, practical and ornamental education to the youth who are ambitious and worthy enough to find seats in its class rooms.

THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Opened with an eloquent appeal to the Throne of Grace in behalf of the scholars and institution, after which Prof. Dean, the veteran although not aged principal, made a brief address, at the conclusion of which he introduced Mr. Albert Berkowitz, of the graduating class, who delivered a neat oration on "Man's Future Advancement." Next followed a very pretty essay on "Kind Words," rendered in fine style by its authoress, Miss Bessie R. Evans. "Cents and Nonsense," a peculiarly rich and pleasing essay by Miss Cevilla A. McClaren, followed to please and entertain the audience. It was a fine and scholarly effort, reflectining much credit to the young lady who wrote and read it. "Popular Ideas," an original oration was delivered with power, force and brilliancy by Mr. Raphael Sergeant, quite a young gentleman. His ideas were good, his language correct and eloquent and his delivery cool and almost faultless. "Night brings out the stars," a magnificent essay by Miss Ella T. Wagstaff elicited much praise, while a happily conceived essay on the odd topic of "Corn and roses" by Miss Mary R. Bowes electrified the audience. We expected little from the caption of the latter effort, but the young lady developed rare powers of composition and made the best possible use of the character of the theme, furnishing a brilliant and pretty treatise on the subject. Mr. Abraham Strasburger delivered an oration on the "Hidden truths of nature," in the course of which he showed that he was no idler in the class room but had trained his mind to think well and correctly, and had perfect control of language to give proper interpretation to his ideas. "It takes all sorts of men to make a world," said Miss Annie W. Donaldson, in a bright and smoothly worded essay, and Miss Alabama McNeely urged those listening in most eloquent words to "Be not weary in well doing." "Is matter dead" was a metaphysical and yet clear and concise argumentative oration delivered in good manner by Mr. Henry Herr. Miss Sarah F. Wright read an intensely interesting essay on the "Idols of the Land," which abounded in keen satire and humorous hits. "Under the Shade" was on the programme as an essay by Miss Annie E. McClelland, but Prof. Dean feelingly announced that owing to the death of that young lady's mother the graduate was not present to contribute her share to the evening's entertainment. "Truth," a good subject, was admirably handled in an oration by Mr. Thomas S. Bell. A brilliant and sparkling essay on "Wreaths and Crowns, read in sprightly manner, by Miss America W. Wallace, we think was the gem of the evening, reflecting much credit to the young lady whose head and heart contributed the production "The Spirit of the Age," a patriotic and well conceived oration by Mr. Franklin P. Swindler was a fine effort. Miss Flora B. Covert, evidently an independent thinker and a lady of very decided ability, read a peculiarly singular essay entitled "The life beyond." Metaphysical and yet plain, pretty and consoling was the style, and the writer read her production with much ease, grace, dignity and feeling. The valedictory address was next delivered, in a truly eloquent and feeling manner, by Mr. Wm. L. Scaife. We have seldom listened to a finer piece of oratory. The speaker entered with feeling into his subject, and in bidding adieu to the faculty and his fellow scholars developed a degree of true and impassioned eloquence seldom attained by college scholars. The exercises throughout were very interesting, and reflected credit equally to the graduating class and the Alma Mater. An excellent orchestra band was in attendance to break the monotony of the entertainment at various stages of the programme with exquisite and enlivening music. After the distribution of diplomas, the vast audience adjourned, much pleased with the entertainment and more than ever impressed with the usefulness and high character of the High School. This evening the Alumni of the institution will hold their annual re-union.

New Paper.

We have received a copy of a spicy and interesting paper of rather small proportions, entitled the Little Chief, published in this city, by the following enterprising and talented youths: Masters T. F. Best, Charles W. Houston, J. Best and J. G. Canfield. The paper is made up of thrilling serial stories, contributed by the juvenile editors, and a general miscellany of literary and news matter. The little journal is the result of amateur labor, the type setting, press work, editing and story writing all having been performed by the proprietors. As the projectors grow older we hope their paper will expand into one of great importance, and for the present trust that the enterprise may be encouraged, and that the Little Chief may prove a brilliant addition to the city press and a paying institution to its owners.

Editors of the Gazette: As the warm weather has commenced in earnest, and a pleasant walk and ice cream being favorite subjects for conversation, permit me to suggest to your numerous readers on this side of the river a promenade over the well lighted wide walks of Hand street bridge to the beautiful Parks of our sister city, stoping of course at Mrs. Makefield's for ice cream, at the north end of the bridge, on the corner of River avenue and Andetson street, where the most delicious article is dealt out with a liberal hand every evening to large numbers who are always sure to call again. MUSIC, LITERATURE, ELOQUENCE.

Pittsburgh Female College—Closing Exercises By the Graduating Class—Essays, Addresses and Songs—The Prizes Awarded—An Evening Delightfully Spent.

Our literary public are indebted to President Pershing, of the Pittsburgh Female College for many an hour of instruction and pleasure. The entertainments, which under his direction have been given by the pupils of this excellent Institution, have always been of such a character as to remove them outside of the ordinary pale of local college gatherings, and make the occasions delightful to all who can appreciate literary excellence. Thus it is easily explained why upon every return of the entertainments, an audience is assembled of which the brilliant, intelligent and fashionable gathering in the chapel last evening, was but an illustration.

The occasion was the commencement exercises of the College, or closing performance of the graduating class, and President Pershing's rare tact and faculty in this direction were never more happily exhibited than in the programme which had been arranged and the faultless manner in which it was subsequently carried out. All who were present were delighted, and all were equally as frank in expressing their pleasure.

The graduates, six in number, arrayed in white, occupied seats upon the platform, which was further rendered attractive by two unique rustic stands and a pair of vases filled with ferns and fragrant flowers which pervaded the chapel with a delicate and sweet perfume. The audience had all assembled at eight o'clock, filling the room in every available space and earnestly awaiting the commencement of the programme:

The exercises of the evening were commenced with "Union," an instrumental duett by the Misses Bowman and Darrah, a spirited and exceedingly well executed performance. Prof. Blessner played the accompaniment on the organ.

The Rev. C. W. Smith, of the Beaver Street M. E. Church, then led the audience in prayer.

Miss Inez Kennedy, the fair young vocalist who bore away the prize for vocalization at the annual contest, next took the platform and again favored the audience with "Ilma"—the selection with which she gained the high honor upon the previous occasion.

After these pleasant opening preliminaries, the regular programme began with the Salutatory by Miss M. S. Purviance, of Pittsburgh, who spoke a few words of kindly welcome to the audience, visitors, friends and Alumnæ, and referred fittingly to school life and its pleasures and joys, closing with a neat and happy peroration, which was the signal for applause. "Life a Romance" was now treated of by an another graduate, Miss Mary J. Buchanan, of Allegheny, who in a brief essay developed the idea that men, in the pursuit of fame and wealth, and love, too often assumed false ideas, and failing in their designs, hastened to pronounce life a hollow sham. The essay contained many sharp hits, which elicited laughter, and at the close hearty encores.

"Le Metore," an instrumental duett by the Misses Ake and Dermitt, diversified the programme at this stage, and was followed by a Latin essay, "Quae tua Corona," by Miss Sigourney Trask, of Youngsville. The lady read in an excellent style, and greatly to the satisfaction of those who understood and approved her sentiments. Those who didn't looked wise and said nothing—the most appropriate action under the circumstances. At the close she was heartily applauded. "Nothing Lost" formed the subject of the next essay by Miss Bessie B. Mercer, of Allegheny. The lady read unusually well, and her production, terse, piquant, and sparkling with logical thought was quite enthusiastically received. She contended that nothing in the economy of nature was lost. This idea was developed with well chosen, sometimes witty, sometimes beautiful and always happy illustrations, which marked the essay as a literary production of high merit. As she sat down a shower of fragrant offerings, together with a brilliant diamond ring, testified the approval of her hearers.

The programme was here changed, and instead of a song and chorus which was expected, by Miss Maggie McMullen and class, Miss Mary Bowman sang that comic ballad, "I'll be no Submissive wife," with a spirit and expression, and correct vocalism which elicited the heartiest approval from the audience. Miss Kate Brewster presided with ease and grace at the piano during the song.

"Voices of the Wind" was the title of the fifth essay, by Miss Emma Nicols, of St. Paul, Minnesota. The essay was a sort of wierd, mysterious, yet withal, interesting method of reviewing the changes which had come over our land from the commencement to the close of our great rebellion,—each successive change being borne upon the winds to the ear of the pale watcher far away, yet eager and interested in the result. The subject was happily worded, and the peculiar vein in which it was commenced and continued throughout, added to artful eloquence, made it one of the best performances of the evening. Miss Lizzie K. Pershing (daughter of President Pershing) was the last essayist on the programme—the valedictorian. The subject of her essay was "Echoes," in which the idea was emanated that as in the grand old woods, each echo was but the return of the voice in exactly the same manner as it had gone forth. So in the world, all would receive just such treatment as they gave to others. If from them went forth for all kindness and sympathy and charity, so would these influences return to bless and encourage and cheer their lives. In language chaste and beautiful and elegant the fair essayist amplified this original thought, and then turned from the theme to say a few valedictory words to the Trustees and instructors and companions during the years which had marked the scholastic life of those who were now to say farewell to all those scenes of happiness, of study and of improvement. The closing words to her classmates were exceedingly beautiful, and the most attentive interest was manifested by the audience as she said:

Dear Schoolmates, long have we walked, hand in hand, united by a bond of symphy and love, which is hard to sever now. In a few brief hours we must separate, and soon will others take our places and claim your love.

But may we not hope there is room in your hearts for them and us, too,—that we shall not be forgotten? And now would you hear music always; would you make your life one long grand song, full of harmony and sweetness; strive to bring music and harmony into lives which are shut off from all sweet sounds. Speak in low, tender tones to those who are accustomed to hear only harsh voices—such notes of joy and comfort into lives accustomed only to mournful dirges. Teach hearts now uttering cries of sorrow to chant anthems of praise to God, and there shall be echoed back to you the melody of thankfulness and love from grateful hearts. With the hope that your lives may be full of harmony we bid you farewell.

My class-mates, as I look back to-night over the years of my school life, memory brings before me many bright pictures to which your forms and your faces lend much of the charm. We have spent many happy hours together, and it is sad that soon their memory only will be left to us. We have reached the borders of that sunny future land, to which we have so long been looking forward. I wonder whether it will always look so lovely as it does now or if it is possible that fair sky will sometime grow dark, those snowy gold tinted clouds become black and threatening. Can it be that the bright flowers of hope which are just springing up, will ever be beaten down by pitiless storms? But we may not stop to dream now. There is nothing left for us but to say farewell, and enter upon our different life-paths. And now what sounds shall ring in our ears? What shall our lives be? Light, trifling songs? Oh! no let us make them glorious anthems full of melody and grandeur. Let us have no discords, but all harmony. Let us so live that the echo shall bear to our glad ears only sweet joyful notes, grand strains of music. But we must hasten on; we would fain linger, but there is no charm to stay the flying hours. And now in sorrow we must part; but, my classmates, in a little while will be our meeting, in that land where we shall hear no groans or wailings, no harsh or discordant notes; but instead the melodious strains of the angel harpers and the grand harmony of Jehovah's voice."

A piano solo, "Darmstadt," [which secured the prize at the contest] was next on the programme, Miss Susie Patterson performing—to the evident satisfaction of the audience.

This closed the regular exercises of the class. The Rev. John A. Gray, pastor of Christ M. E. Church, now ascended the platform, and addressed the graduates in a brief address; one of those vigorous efforts, full of strong thoughts, eloquent, terse, scholarly diction and practical conusels for which the reverend gentleman is so peculiarly distinguished, and to which no synopsis would do justice.

Following the address came a song, "Tyrolese," by Miss Emma Sawyer, Miss Kate Brewster playing the accompaniment.

President Pershing then delivered the diplomas to the graduates, with the usual ceremonies. After the diplomas had been given, he explained to the audience the examinations, attached to which was a prize to the pupil exhibiting the greatest proficiency in the various studies. He opened the sealed envelopes and read the reports of the judges. The entire list, as completed, was then read, showing, during the year, the following:

PRIZES AWARDED.

1. President's prize for best essay—Writing Desk—to Miss Lizzie K. Pershing.
2. McKee prize—Golden Medal—Superior excellence in instrumental music—Miss Susie Patterson.
3. McKee prize—Silver Medal—Instrumental music—Miss. Mary L. Fleming.
4. Mellor prize—Volume of Music—Vocal Music, to Miss Inez Kennedy.
5. Mrs. Margaret Davidson prize—Silver Cup—Reading, Miss Alice C. Birdsong.
6. Mary Kidd Foster prize—Sketch Box—Painting, to Miss Kittie Woods.
7. Mary Kidd Foster prize—Drawing—Mathematical Instruments, Miss Mary Murtland.
9. Holmes prize—Excellence in Latin—Steven's Histories of M. E. Church and Methodism; 7 vols., Miss Sigowrney Trask.

Mrs. Bishop Simpson prize—Mathematics—Gallery of Famous Poets, Miss F. H. Jones.

The delightful entertainment, one of the most pleasant we have ever attended, was appropriately and fittingly closed with an exquisitely beautiful parting song, "The Schoolgirl's Farewell," by the Misses Bowman, Wallace, McCoy and Mapel, followed by the Benediction by the Rev. W. A. Davidson, with which the audience was dismissed.

The class thus graduated is looked apon as one of the most promising ever honored with the diploma of the College. As the company retired they were surrounded by friends and schoolmates to exchange congratulations and good byes, and thus, with minds trained and cultivated, with the pleasant memories of former successes, and with the kindliest wishes of friends and teachers and companions, they step forward into the active duties of life with the assurance that with them rests the duty of after years of worthily representing their beloved Alma Mater.

First Ward, Allegheny.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Your notice of a meeting of the citizens of this ward having been held at the house of Mr. G. W. Lyons, for the purpose of nominating delegates to the county conventions, is rather a surprise to very many Republicans. The usual place for holding such meetings has been at the Public School House, and it has also been customary to give public notice of such meeting. Why the place has been changed to a private house, and why no notice has been given to the citizens at large, thus preventing the usual expression of opinion, is a mystery that outsiders would like to have explained. Is this attempt to break up the "ring that runs the ward," likely to receive support from the honest voters, whilst such unusual ways are adopted and such secresy maintained, enveloping the movement with the cloak that Rings are supposed to hide under.

At least three of the names mentioned as being present, or as receiving nominations, are names of persons known to have been connected with a similar meeting, held for similar purposes some time ago, and said persons were rendered duly obnoxious to the honest voters for such actions. Are they repeating the old dodge? If not, why was no public notice given of this caucus? Are they really representing the people of the ward, or certain candidates for office? It looks rather like the latter, or the people would have been invited to attend the meeting and express their preferences as to who should represent them in the coming conventions. The primary election will decide whether the people of the First ward endorse secret caucuses, plausibly called to defeat supposed rings.

AN ORDINANCE

GRANTING TO THE

Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway Company

The Right to Lay Tracks Upon Certain Streets in the City of Pittsburgh.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained enacted by the authority of the same, That the consent of the City of Pittsburgh is hereby given to the Federal street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway Company to enter upon, lay-out and construct a railway, with single or double tracks and the necessary turn-outs and switches in, over and along the following streets of said city, to-wit: Beginning on Ninth street, at the southern end of the Hand street bridge; thence along said Ninth street to Liberty; thence across Liberty to Seventh avenue; thence along said avenue to Smithfield street; thence along Smithfield street to Fifth avenue; subject to the conditions and limitations of the Acts of Assembly incorporating said Railway Company, approved respectively February 20th, A. D. 1868, and March 25th, 1870, and subject also to the further conditions, as follows, viz.:

First. The said Company shall use in the construction of said railway, rails of a pattern to be approved by the City Engineer of the City of Pittsburgh, and shall lay the same down in the place and manner designated by him, and pay to the said Engineer, for the use of the city, a reasonable compensation for his services in connection therewith.

Second. The said Company shall, at their own expense, procure and put down at all gutters crossed by said railway, iron culverts of a pattern to be approved by the City Engineer, which culverts shall be laid under the directions of said City Engineer before the rails are laid. Said Company shall keep the streets through which they pass, from curb to curb, clean and in perpetual good repair.

Third. All repairs which may be necessary upon said streets, shall be done under the directions and subject to the orders of the Street Commissioner of the proper district, and the acceptance of this ordinance by the said company shall be held to be authority for the Street Commissioner of the District at all times, when he may deem the same necessary, to purchase materials and employ laborers in the name and on behalf of said Company, for the repairs of said streets, and an agreement on the part of said Company to pay the cost and expense thereof.

Fourth. If the Councils of said city shall at any time hereafter direct a change of grade of said streets, or either of them, or if it shall become necessary to take up said railway for the purpose of paving or repaving, grading or regrading said streets, or either of them, or for the purpose of constructing any sewer or culvert therein, or for the purpose of laying, relaying or repairing any water pipes therein, the said railway shall be taken up and relaid by said Company at their own expense, and in case of their failure so to do after reasonable notice, the Street Commissioner of the district shall take the same up at the expense of said Company, and it shall be unlawful for said Company to relay the same while any of the above enumerated work is being done upon said streets, or either of them.

Fifth. That the said Company, for and during the first five years after they shall commence running cars upon said streets, shall pay into the City Treasury the sum of twenty dollars per year for each car run over said streets, and from thence thereafter the sum of thirty dollars per year for each of their cars run over said streets; and the said Company shall, in addition to the above, pay into the City Treasury the sum of two per centum of the dividends or net profits of their said road. The sum so assessed upon each car of said Company shall be paid within one month after they commence to run cars over said streets, and annually thereafter, and it shall be the duty of the President of said Company, within one month after the end of one year from the time they commence to run cars upon said streets, and annually thereafter, to file with the City Controller a sworn statement of the number of cars used thereon during the preceding year, and no payment shall be required for cars used only in case of accident to those in common use. The tax upon dividends hereinabove levied upon said Company, shall be paid the City Treasurer within ten days after said dividend shall have been declared, and if any dividend shall be declared in the stock of said Company, the tax shall be paid thereon as if paid in cash, estimating the stock at its par value.

Sixth. The City of Pittsburgh reserves the right to grant the use of the track laid upon the streets aforesaid, or any portion thereof for similar purposes, on condition that the grantee or grantees of the city pay a proportionate part of the cost of construction and maintenance of the same.

Seventh. Any failure upon the part of said Company to comply with any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall, at the option of the Councils of the City of Pittsburgh, work a revocation of the privileges hereby granted, and the said Councils may direct the removal of said railway as a public nuisance. Provided, That this provision shall not be construed to prevent the said city from pursuing any and all other remedies provided by law. And said Company shall commence the work of laying tracks within three months, and complete the same within one year from the passage of this ordinance.

SEC. 2. That the powers hereby conferred shall not be exercised, nor shall this ordinance be published and recorded until said Company shall file with the City Controller an agreement under the seal of said Company, in such form as the City Attorney shall approve, accepting the privileges hereby granted upon the terms and conditions herein set forth.

SEC. 3. The Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway Company shall use the tracks of the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Passenger Railway along that part of Smithfield street named in the route aforesaid, and shall conform to the time table of said Pittsburgh and Birmingham road in running their cars over the same and pay their proportion of the cost of construction and maintenance of said tracks upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the Companies.

SEC. 4. That any ordinance or part or part of ordinance conflicting with the passage of this ordinance at the present time, be and the same is hereby repealed so far as the same affects this ordinance.
